Denver Law's Office of Career Development and Opportunities reports 96.6% employment rate for JD Class of 2011

We are pleased to report that 96.6% of the members of Denver Law's JD Class of 2011 who sought employment were employed as of February 15, 2012. This is up 6.1% from the 90.5% employment rate we reported for the Class of 2010. Our detailed employment report for the Class of 2011 is available on the Office of Career Development & Opportunities' website. While we are pleased with the upward trend in our employment rate, we still have work to do. Our next goal is to improve the rate of graduates employed in full time, long term, professional positions 9 months after graduation. The CDO staff will lead this effort, but getting jobs is a team sport. If everyone in the Denver Law community (faculty, staff, alumni and students) does what they can to improve the employment outcomes for our students, we have a chance to take our employment success to the next level.

Alumni Resources

Educating Tomorrow's Lawyers

Last August, DU's Institute for the Advancement of the American Legal System (IAALS) and the Sturm College of Law launched Educating Tomorrow's Lawyers, (ETL) an initiative which leverages the Carnegie Model (see the Carnegie Foundation's 2007 Report, Educating Lawyers) and the work of law schools and professors committed to legal education reform to align legal education with the needs of an evolving profession. By providing a supported platform for shared learning, experimentation, ongoing measurement and collective implementation, ETL is putting knowledge into practice. Check out the ETL site for an engaging video, "How Do You Engage Your Students?" featuring Prof. Roberto Corrada's Labor Law class.

Legal Externship Program

With more than 400 placements a year, the Denver Law's Legal Externship Program is an effective and comprehensive bridge to take students from law student to lawyer. Externs work with corporate in-house counsel, private firms, government and non-profit agencies, as well as with judges at all levels. As a member of the Denver Law alumni network, you can play an important role in the development of future practicing lawyers. For more information, please visit the Legal Externship Program website.

Join the Professional Mentoring Program

Participants in Denver Law's nationally recognized Professional Mentoring Program spend approximately 13 hours during an academic year mentoring first and second year law students about practical legal skills. Visit us online for more information or to apply to be a mentor.

RMLUI Home Study Sessions

The Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute's 21st Annual Land Use Conference took place March 1 & 2, 2012. The Sturm College of Law was host to 400 land use professionals who participated in over 30 sessions over two days. If you couldn't make it (or even if you did and want to catch up on sessions you missed), RMLUI will be making the sessions available as part of our Home Study Courses. The 2012 Courses will be available by mid-May, and provide an ideal option for maintaining your professional standing. Visit our website to learn more.

Denver Law Resume Book

Created by the Office of Career Development & Opportunities (CDO), the Resume Book is a resource that contains resumes from recent Denver Law graduates which are keyword searchable so employers can quickly identify graduates that fit their needs. The CDO also can help search for a specific 2011 Denver Law graduate that meet certain employee needs via its new Job Matching Program. If you know of an opportunity that may be a good fit for one of our graduates, please contact Assistant Dean for Career Opportunities Eric Bono at 303.871.6124 or ebono@law.du.edu.

Colorado Law Project at the University of Denver

In Colorado, as in most states, direct access to legal information is limited by a number of factors. Some of those factors include the location of law libraries, access to legal collections and databases, ability to pay for fee based services, the sophistication of the information seeker's searching ability, and familiarity and understanding of legal information and processes. Because of these barriers and the nature of today's e-society, many people turn to the Internet for answers. Responding to this need, the University of Denver launched the Colorado Law Project, the premier online gateway to Colorado's legal information and resources for use by the general public.

The Alumni Volunteer Network Online

The Alumni Volunteer Network (AVN) program enables students to contact participating alumni and discuss specific practice areas, the legal profession in other cities and the overall benefits (and drawbacks) of a career in law. This program is a wonderful way to assist the next generation of DU Law alumni. Please visit us online to register.

Keep up with DU Law Faculty Research

The Sturm College of Law recently joined the Social Science Research Network (SSRN), an on-line network of research databases that distributes information about scholarly research throughout the world. Subscribers to the DU Law Legal Studies Research Paper Series receive periodic email updates with the titles and abstracts of both finished articles and draft articles written by DU Law faculty. This is a quick and easy way to keep up to date on the most current research being conducted and disseminated by our faculty scholars. If you would like to subscribe to this FREE service, please visit the SSRN website. If you have any questions about subscribing, please contact the Manager of Educational Technology, Jessica Hogan.

Legislative Process Digital Collection

The Westminster Law Library at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law is proud to announce the release of a new digital collection, Access for All: Providing a Window to the Legislative Process for Colorado's Citizens. This site provides searchable access to all Colorado Legislative Council Research Publications, links to relevant legislation for newer publications, and information on performing legislative history research at the state and federal level. For more information, please visit the Westminster Law Library.
