Million Dollar Quartet is the electrifying true story of the one and only recording session between Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis and Carl Perkins. Brought together in 1956 by Sam Phillips, the “Father of Rock ‘n’ Roll,” that legendary night comes to life with an irresistible tale of broken promises, secrets, betrayal and celebrations featuring timeless hits including “Blue Suede Shoes,” “Fever,” “That’s All Right,” “Sixteen Tons,” “Great Balls of Fire,” “I Walk the Line,” “Who Do You Love?,” “Folsom Prison Blues,” “Hound Dog” and more. Showing at the Buell Theater. Tickets from $30 - $95, 7:30 pm

Girls Only – The Secret Comedy of Women is an original comedy that celebrates the honor, truth, humor and silliness of being female. With a two-woman cast and audiences full of raucous, laughing ladies, the show has found quick popularity in its unique examination of all things girly. Born out of the earnest and sweetly absurd writings the two authors discovered in their girlhood diaries, the GIRLS ONLY mix of sketch comedy, improvisation, audience participation, and hilarious songs and videos reminds audiences of the very funny and very charming similarities all women share. Showing at the Garner Galleria Theatre 7:30 pm. Tickets $33.

Colorado Symphony, There Will be... Beethoven - Innovative Dutch conductor Andre de Ridder leads an eclectic program that starts with a contemporary composer and moves backwards, inviting the audience to listen in new ways. Opener There Will Be Blood, from the 2007 film of the same name, was composed by Jonny Greenwood, best known as the guitarist in Britain’s art-rock combo Radiohead. William Wolfram takes on Britten’s sole piano concerto, brilliantly juxtaposed by Beethoven’s first symphony, which introduced the young composer to the world. Boettcher Concert Hall, 7:30 pm. Tickets from $20 to $83.
