

THE UNIVERSITY OF DENVER WATER LAW REVIEW

2011 Symposium

A Vision for the Future

Balancing Population Growth with Increasing Water Demand

Date

April 15th, 2011

Time

8:00 am – 5:00 pm
(Check-in begins at 7:00 am)

Location

University of
Denver Sturm
College of Law
Room 165

Fee

$150 includes
parking, breakfast
bar, & lunch

CLE Credits

8 General / 1 Ethics

Panels and Speakers

Needs and Demands: What does the future really look like?

Alexandra Davis: Colorado Department of Natural Resources

Sources of Water: Where will our water come from and how are we going to harness it?

Eric Kuhn: Colorado River Water Conservation District

Eric Wilkinson: Northern Colorado Water Conservancy District

Inter-basin Coordination

Ted Kowalski: Colorado Water Conservation Board

Peter Fleming: Colorado River Water Conservation District

Turning to Groundwater: An engineering perspective

Luke Harris: Bishop-Brogden Associates, Inc.

Conservation: Responsible planning for a balanced future

Drew Beckwith: Western Resource Advocates

Ethics in the Practice of Water Law

John Cyran: Colorado Attorney General's Office

Colorado Courts & Legislative Update

Doug Kemper: Colorado Water Congress

Register at: www.law.du.edu/waterlawreview or www.regonline.com/2011universityofdenverwaterlawreviewsymposium

For more information, contact Tony Basile at: abasile11@law.du.edu or 262.844.8763