Graduate Financial Aid Award Information

The value of a University of Denver education is something that each student should carefully consider. A DU education is prized for its outcomes, for our commitment to investing in student learning and for our emphasis on excellence, innovation, integrity and engagement. DU is committed to financially assisting students to the greatest extent possible while assuring a quality educational experience. DU is continually making every effort to provide the best financial options for the greatest number of students.

The Office of Financial Aid and your academic department are committed to working with you to make a DU education affordable. Academic departments provide scholarships, grants, and assistantships. The Office of Financial Aid provides work-study and student loans. After you review your financial aid award and read this document, accept your financial aid through the Student tab of webCentral. Contact the Office of Financial Aid if you have any questions.

COST OF ATTENDANCE

The cost of attendance, or student budget, is a nine-month estimate of direct and indirect costs typically incurred by all students. Direct costs are billed to you by the Bursar’s Office. These include tuition, fees, and the optional student health insurance plan. Indirect costs are educational expenses that are not billed by the University. These include books and supplies, room, board, transportation expenses, and personal expenses. The budget parameters have been determined by the Colorado Department of Higher Education and by the Office of Financial Aid.

The student budget sets a limit on the amount of financial assistance - including scholarships, grants, work-study, loans, and other resources (such as AmeriCorps awards and employer paid tuition benefits) - you can receive in an academic year. The budget in your award letter lists the costs used to determine your financial aid award. Your actual costs may be different.

STUDENT BILL

Each term you will be billed for direct costs less any financial aid you receive. You are responsible for making arrangements to pay any outstanding charges by the published due date. Payment for each term is due 10 days prior to the official start of the term. Tuition due dates for the 2010-2011 academic year are listed on the Bursar’s Office website at www.du.edu/bursar.

If your financial aid disbursement exceeds your charges, you will receive a refund for the excess amount. Direct deposit of refunds may be set up through your webCentral account, on the Student tab.
YOUR FINANCIAL AID AWARD

Your financial aid award is based on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), the cost of attendance, your demonstrated financial need, the date you submitted your FAFSA, and the availability of financial assistance at DU.

Based on the information you submitted, your award reflects the maximum award that our resources will allow. However, if you have special circumstances not reflected on the FAFSA, please contact our office to discuss submitting an appeal. An advisor will be able to let you know if a change to your award could result from an appeal and would let you know what kind of documentation is required.

Your financial aid awards are divided equally between fall, winter, and spring quarters or if you are a law student, fall and spring semesters. The financial aid offered can only be used during the terms indicated. If your enrollment plan will be less than the traditional nine-month academic year, inform the Office of Financial Aid so adjustments can be made to your cost of attendance and financial aid awards.

Financial aid is available for summer term, but on a very limited basis. Summer is considered the fourth quarter or third semester of the academic year, therefore awarding of federal aid will be limited to your remaining eligibility from the current academic year. You should carefully examine your academic plans and finances before registering for summer. The Summer Financial Aid Application is available April 2011 and should be submitted at least three weeks prior to the start of the summer term.

ACCEPTING YOUR AWARD

You can view your financial aid awards and accept, decline, or reduce offered aid through the Student or Admitted Graduate Student tabs in webCentral, at www.webcentral.du.edu. Your acceptance indicates that you will comply with all of the terms and conditions of financial aid awards. Scholarships, grants, work-study, and student loans must be accepted through webCentral within 30 days of your award notification to ensure you receive these funds for the academic year. Some institutional scholarships may have been automatically accepted for you. Awards not accepted by the deadline may be cancelled.

STATEMENT OF EDUCATIONAL PURPOSE

By accepting financial aid awards you certify that all money received under Title IV and Colorado State student financial aid programs are only for expenses related to your attendance at University of Denver. You also confirm that you do not owe a repayment on any federal or state student aid funds received at any institution attended, nor have you borrowed in excess of any federal loan limits. You further attest that you are responsible for repayment of a prorated amount of any portion of payments made which cannot reasonably be attributed to meeting educational expenses related to the attendance at the University. The amount of such repayment is to be determined by the criteria set forth by the United States Department of Education and the Colorado Department of Higher Education.
TITLE IV DISCLOSURE

University of Denver is required by the federal government, through the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, to provide the following information: The title of the person designated under Section 668.367, Subpart C, Title 34 of the Code of Federal Regulations is the Director of Financial Aid. This individual may be contacted at the Office of Financial Aid, University Hall, 2197 South University Boulevard, University of Denver, Denver, Colorado, 80208, 303-871-4020, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

University of Denver must provide you with a statement of the rights and responsibilities of students receiving financial aid under the Perkins loan and Direct Loan programs.

To receive federal Title IV financial aid funds:

1. You must maintain satisfactory academic progress according to University of Denver standards and practices as published.
2. You must not be in default on a Federal Perkins and/or Federal Loan Programs, or Federal PLUS Loan Programs at any institution.
3. You must not owe a refund of a federal grant received at any institution.
4. You must sign a statement that all funds received through the federal financial aid programs will be used solely for educational or education-related purposes.
5. You must be registered for the draft if you are required to register. Proof of registration may be required.

Other information that University of Denver is required to disseminate, according to the Student Consumerism Regulations, Section 668.34, Subpart C, Title 34 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 178.4, can be found elsewhere in this document and the DU financial aid website.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Your rights and responsibilities for receiving financial aid are contingent upon your compliance with various federal, state and institutional policies and regulations that govern the awards. The policies described below apply to your financial aid awards.

The Office of Financial Aid expects you to read and understand the contents of this document.

- You will maintain a record of your application and award information and keep copies of all your financial aid documents in a personal file.
- You are responsible for completing the FAFSA, submitting documents for verification, applying for loans, signing promissory notes, and completing entrance and exit counseling in a timely manner. Financial aid disbursement may be delayed if requirements are not complete at least one month prior to the start of classes.
Your financial aid award is not renewed automatically. You must reapply by April 1 each year for full consideration of financial assistance for the following year. Need-based financial aid awards may change from year to year based on your family’s financial circumstances such as changes in income and/or assets, the number of people included in your family size, the number of students in your family attending college, and your year in school.

If you are selected for verification, you will receive an email from the Office of Financial Aid listing the documents that must be submitted. These documents must be received before a financial aid award can be generated or financial aid disbursed to your student account.

If you receive additional aid from outside sources including private scholarships, Americorps awards, or company reimbursement, your financial aid awards may be adjusted to prevent awards that exceed your financial need or cost of attendance.

DU scholarships, grants, and GTA/GRA tuition waivers cover tuition charges only, unless otherwise stipulated by the award.

DU employees and/or eligible children may not receive a combination of tuition waiver benefits and institutional awards that exceed tuition.

If you drop below 4 credit hours, you will no longer be eligible for federal aid. If you obtain your degree, withdraw from school, or change from degree candidate to non-degree candidate during the school year your financial aid award will be adjusted according to the terms you attend.

If you drop below full-time enrollment, you may lose eligibility for certain grant or scholarship awards; or they may be prorated. Your budget may also be reduced, which would reduce your eligibility for financial aid.

If you defer admission from fall to winter or spring quarters in the same academic year, you must notify the Office of Financial Aid.

If you owe charges to DU for a previous term, a hold will be placed on your account preventing you from registering for future quarters. The hold will be lifted after you pay your account balance in full.

Federal regulations require the DU Office of Financial Aid to monitor the academic progress of all students receiving financial aid. This policy is called Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). The SAP policy is enforced in conjunction with all other University policies and procedures, including the academic suspension policy. SAP is monitored on a yearly basis, usually in mid to late summer, and is effective the following fall term. SAP is measured using three factors:

1. You must complete 80% of courses attempted.
2. You must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA as defined by your program of study (3.0 for most graduate programs at DU, 2.30 for Law students).
3. You must complete degree requirements within 150% of the time frame required to complete your degree. If you are not meeting SAP standards, you will be notified by the Office of Financial Aid and must confer with a Financial Aid Advisor to create a plan to regain eligibility.
If you have been awarded federal work study, you must secure a work-study position within the first six weeks of the term to remain eligible for the award offered to you. If you do not secure a position within the first six weeks, the award will be cancelled. Work-study policies are outlined in the Work-Study Student Handbook. If for any reason you fail to fulfill the expectations of the work-study program, your employment will be terminated. You must be enrolled at least half-time in order to retain a work-study award. Work-study monies cannot be earned by DU staff or faculty members.

Any student who begins classes at DU, applies for financial aid, completes all of the requirements to obtain aid, and then withdraws from classes may have his or her financial aid adjusted according to federal, state, and institutional regulations. Students must contact the Registrar's Office to officially withdraw from the University. The Office of Financial Aid can advise you on how a withdrawal affects your financial aid eligibility.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID
Awarding of financial aid is directed by both your academic department and the Office of Financial Aid. Your financial aid award may contain a combination of the following types of aid.

DU Scholarships and Grants
The DU financial aid program includes a range of scholarships and grants that are funded by tuition revenue, endowment earnings, and gifts. Your financial aid award reflects University of Denver's commitment from institutional resources. The combination of institutional awards may not exceed your tuition charges per term.

Scholarship awarding criteria is determined by academic departments. Contact your department for details.

Academic departments also recommend Doctoral Fellowship candidates to the Office of Graduate Studies. The Office of Graduate Studies selects candidates with outstanding academic achievement based on departmental recommendations. Contact your department for details.

Graduate Teaching or Research Assistantships
Assistantship awarding criteria is determined by academic departments. These awards traditionally include a tuition waiver and a monthly stipend in the form of a salary. Contact your department for details.

Federal Work-Study
The work-study program provides jobs for students with financial need, allowing them to earn money to help pay for educationally-related expenses. The program encourages community service work and work related to each student's course of study. Work-study jobs are available both on and off-campus. If you work off-campus, your employer will be a private nonprofit organization or a public agency, and the work performed must be in the public interest. These jobs should be relevant to your course of study to the maximum extent possible. Work-Study is a highly competitive financial aid award and students are highly encouraged to meet the priority deadline for filing your FAFSA. For incoming students the priority deadline is March 1 and for continuing students the deadline is April 1. Due to limited funding, Work-Study is awarded on a first-come, first-served basis until funds are exhausted.
You will earn at least Colorado minimum wage, but the amount might be higher depending on the type of work you do and the skills required. Your total work-study award depends on when you apply, your level of need, and the funding level available at the time you apply. The amount you earn may not exceed your total work-study award. When assigning work hours, your supervisor will consider your class schedule and your academic progress. You will be paid an hourly wage on a biweekly basis for hours worked. Work-study funds will not be directly deposited into your tuition.

Federal Direct Loans (Generally known as Stafford Loans)
Subsidized and unsubsidized Federal Direct loans are available to students enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking program. These low-interest loans are made directly by the Department of Education. Students with demonstrated need are eligible for a subsidized loan and the government will pay the interest while the student is in school and during a six-month grace period. Unsubsidized loans are awarded to those without remaining need, and the interest accrues on the loan during school, the grace period, and through repayment.

The interest rate is a fixed 6.8% for graduate students. There is a .5% loan origination fee deducted from the loan by the Department of Education. This loan fee includes an up-front .5% rebate, which is retained by making the first 12 monthly payments on time. Repayment begins 6 months after the student is no longer enrolled at least half-time. The standard repayment period is 10 years but can be as long as 30 years.

Graduate students are eligible for loan amounts up to $20,500 per academic year in a combination of subsidized and unsubsidized loans; no more than $8,500 can be subsidized each academic year. A student's overall aggregate loan borrowing may not exceed $138,500, of which the subsidized portion may not be over $65,500.

Before you receive a Direct loan disbursement, you must complete online entrance counseling and sign a Master Promissory Note (MPN). Entrance counseling will provide important information about your rights and responsibilities as a loan borrower. Both of these requirements can be satisfied online through the Direct Loan website.

Federal Perkins Loan
The Perkins loan is a federally guaranteed, low interest loan with a fixed rate of 5.0% for graduate students enrolled at least half-time (4 credits) in an eligible program. Students with demonstrated financial need who meet the Office of Financial Aid application deadlines are considered for the loan up to a maximum of $4,000 per academic year. Interest does not accrue while you are enrolled half-time (4 credits), during the nine-month grace period, and during periods of eligible deferment.

Before you receive a Perkins loan disbursement, you must complete entrance counseling and sign a MPN. Entrance counseling will provide important information about your rights and responsibilities as a loan borrower. You may complete entrance counseling online at www.mappingyourfuture.org. When you successfully complete online entrance counseling, DU will be automatically notified. The Perkin's MPN is located on the Bursar's Office website at www.du.edu/bursar/perkins.html.
Federal Direct Graduate Plus Loan
The Direct Graduate/Professional PLUS loan is available to students enrolled at least half-time in a degree-seeking graduate level program. Students are encouraged to accept their full Federal Direct Loan eligibility before applying for the PLUS loan.

The Direct PLUS interest rate is fixed at 7.9%. There is a 2.5% loan origination fee deducted from the loan by the Department of Education. This loan fee includes an up-front 1.5% rebate, which is retained by making your first 12 monthly payments on time. Repayment on a Graduate PLUS loan is deferred while the student is enrolled at least half-time. Repayment begins 45 days after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. Forbearance options are available to students who are unable to make their payments after their in-school deferment ends.

PLUS Loan borrowers are required to pass a credit check which is typically less strict than those required for private education loans. If you are denied a PLUS loan because of adverse credit, an endorser addendum is automatically mailed. You may appeal the denial or reapply with an endorser. The requested loan amount may be equal to or less than the student’s total cost of attendance less all other financial aid.

Before you receive a Direct Graduate PLUS loan disbursement, you must complete online entrance counseling and sign a Master Promissory Note (MPN). Entrance counseling will provide important information about your rights and responsibilities as a loan borrower. Both of these requirements can be satisfied online through the Direct Loan website.

Apply in May to secure funding for the academic year. Funds received will be applied first to your student account and then refunded to you in the event of a credit balance.

ADDITIONAL FINANCING OPTIONS
Aside from making a full payment at the beginning of each quarter to cover your unmet costs, several financing options are available. First, decide how much you are able to pay from personal funds. Then, consider each of the following payment options and decide which one(s) will meet your needs. Be aware that some of these options charge fees or interest which increases your overall cost for education. These options are available individually or in combination to help cover the remaining cost of educational expenses.

Payment Plans
University of Denver provides students the opportunity to spread their educational costs out over several monthly payments, with a choice of either a 3 or 9 month plan for quarter term students and a 3 or 10 month plan for Law students. Each plan has a enrollment fee – the 3 month plan has a fee of $50 per term and the 9 and 10 months plan has a one-time $50 fee. There is no credit check requirement to enroll. For more information about these options, please visit the Bursar’s Office website at www.du.edu/bursar/options.html.
Part-Time Employment
The Office of Student Employment locates and develops part-time jobs for currently enrolled students who want jobs regardless of their financial need, thus allowing them to earn money to help pay for educationally-related expenses. Part-time jobs are available off-campus with local businesses, nonprofit organizations, government agencies, DU alumni, and families in the Denver community. You will earn at least the current state minimum wage, but the amount may be higher depending on the type of work you do and the skills required. Additional information about part-time employment may be found at www.du.edu/studentemployment.

Private Scholarships
If you applied for and received private scholarship funds, be sure to notify the Office of Financial Aid. Any private scholarship that is not listed on your award letter may affect your financial aid awards. If you have not applied for private scholarship funds, it's not too late to get started. Here are some tips to aid you in your search:

• A search for private scholarships can be time intensive. Therefore, it's important to have an organized system to find, apply for, and receive scholarships. Most of the information you will need to provide on a scholarship search questionnaire will be demographic, but you may also be asked about your academic, extracurricular, and career plans. You can begin this search on the University of Denver Scholarship page at www.du.edu/finaid/gradprivateschol.htm.

• Organizations of all types and sizes sponsor scholarships. Explore local organizations you might not have considered, such as religious, community service, fraternal, military, union, and professional. In addition, some companies may offer tuition reimbursement programs for their employees.

• You can also use a free scholarship search service. The service collects information on hundreds of awards and compares your student characteristics with scholarship restrictions. Based on your answers to a questionnaire, you will receive a list of possible scholarships. You can then decide which ones to apply for. Common search services include: www.finaid.org, www.fastweb.com, or www.scholarships.com.

Americorps Service Scholarships
If you engage in a volunteer service position you may also be eligible for an AmeriCorps service scholarship. Many internships, field placements, student-teaching and community service Work-Study positions qualify. In exchange for providing an unmet human need in the community, DU AmeriCorps members receive a federal educational award. The award comes in the form of a voucher, and can be used for tuition or repayment of student loans. In addition, the award can be held in an account for up to seven years if a member wishes to use it at a later date. The dollar amount of the award depends on the length of service. Often times, it will not require any extra hours or commitment, just tracking of hours. It will also connect you with other DU students engaged in their community. This scholarship amount is directly related to the number of hours you work in your position:

• 300 hours over 1 calendar year = $1000
• 450 hours over 1 calendar year = $1250
• 675 hours over 1 calendar year = $1800
• 900 hours over 2 calendar years = $2363
In addition, a portion of the interest accruing on your federally backed student loans will be paid while you are a member. Members are also eligible to apply for an additional $250 scholarship that can be applied toward professional development training opportunities and conferences. Funding is limited and awarded on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, you can visit the Center for Community Engagement and Service Learning website or email duamericorps@du.edu.

Private Education Loans
Terms of private loans vary significantly. They require a credit check and/or debt-to-income ratio check on the borrower and/or co-borrower. In some cases, a co-borrower may be required. Lower interest rates may be available to students who choose to have a co-borrower. Students should consider applying for a PLUS loan before pursuing a private loan.

University of Denver wants students to compare lenders and make informed loan selection choices. The Office of Financial Aid provides information on lenders who offer competitive products, good customer service, and meet the University’s electronic processing requirements. The list of lenders is provided to give you an idea of what is available. For specific information regarding terms and rates, please contact the lenders directly. Links to relevant websites are provided for each loan program. Recommended lender information is available on the Office of Financial Aid website at www.du.edu/finaid/privateloans.htm.

You initiate the loan process with the lender you select. Applications may be available online at the lender’s website or by contacting the lender by phone. Once the borrower’s and/or co-borrower’s credit is approved, DU will receive a request from the lender to certify the loan. We will certify the loan for the lesser of the amount you request on your application or the maximum amount allowed by your financial aid budget (total cost minus other financial aid). Apply in May to secure funding for the academic year. Funds received will be applied first to your student account and then refunded to you in the event of a credit balance.

Beginning February 14th, 2010, a Self-Certification form will be required by lenders prior to disbursing private loan funds. By submitting a Self-Certification form, the student confirms that they are aware of their federal financial aid options. Self-Certification forms can typically be obtained from the lender. Due to additional regulations for private educational loans, the timeline for obtaining a private educational loan will be longer than in past terms. Students should apply early as the private loan process may take several weeks.

Payment options include, but are not limited to: cash, check or money order; credit card payments; monthly payment plan; and/or additional financial aid. By completing a federal financial aid application you are eligible to borrow a Graduate PLUS Loan up to the cost of attendance less any other financial aid or resources you receive to cover direct and indirect costs through the year. These loans are credit-based. Loan proceeds are paid directly to the student bill each quarter/semester.

Indirect Costs are costs of attending school that include books and supplies, housing and meals, personal expenses, and transportation expenses that are not billed through the University of Denver. The total cost of attendance is a nine month student budget that includes costs typically incurred by all students. The budget parameters have been determined by the Colorado Department of Higher Education and by the Office of Financial Aid.

* Direct Loans have 5% origination fee, which includes an up-front fee rebate of 5%. In order to retain the rebate, you must make your first 12 payments on time. If you do not, the rebate will be added back into the loan principal.
Bursar’s Office

The Bursar’s office bills for tuition and fees, advises on billing and payments, and provides cashiering, student debt management and Perkins loan services. Detailed information about these services is available at our website. We look forward to working with students concerning their investment in higher education.

The budget worksheet in the financial aid portion of this section details the cost of attendance for 2010-11.

DUE DATES FOR 2010-2011

Tuition and Fee bills are due 10 days prior to the first day of classes for each term. The Bursar’s office will send an ecoBill to the electronic billing address selected by the student approximately six weeks before the beginning of each term. There is an exception for a student’s first quarter on-campus; in this case, tuition and fee bills will be generated the first day of class and will be due on September 24 (Law students should contact the College of Law for distribution dates). Current billing information is available at any time through myWeb.

Please note: University College schedules may vary from the standard calendar

Please pay attention to the due dates. Students should budget accordingly to avoid unnecessary delays in registering for future terms. The University may assess late fees, hold registration and transcripts for unpaid balances.

PAYMENT OPTIONS

The University accepts cash, checks, and bank wires. The University has contracted with Sallie Mae to provide credit card and electronic ACH (Automated Clearing House) payment options. There will be a fee associated with credit card payments processed through Sallie Mae.

The University also offers an interest-free monthly payment plan. The plan allows participants to spread the tuition and fee expense over equal monthly payments. There is a nominal setup fee and there is no credit check requirement. We encourage enrolling in the plan by June 1 to receive the maximum benefit.

Please check the Bursar website for details and updates on payment options at www.du.edu/bursar/pymtservices.html.
REFUNDS OF EXCESS LOAN PROCEEDS

Federal Stafford, Federal Perkins, Federal PLUS and private loans are disbursed directly to your tuition account after all requirements (see financial aid information) have been satisfied. If the total loan proceeds are greater than the total account charges, a refund check will be issued to the student for the excess amount. Students are encouraged to register for direct deposit of refunds to their checking or savings account. Registration can be completed through myWeb. If students do not register for direct deposit, refund checks are mailed to the mailing address designated by the student. Dates for receiving refunds are determined by disbursement dates. Please see the Bursar website for the most current information.

TUITION REFUNDS

A student withdrawing or dropping courses early in the term may receive a partial reduction of tuition charges based upon the published Registration calendar. The student will be responsible for paying any unpaid balance after tuition and financial aid are adjusted for the change in enrollment.

EMPLOYER REIMBURSEMENT

The Employer Reimbursement Payment option is available to students whose employers require course completion prior to reimbursing the student for incurred tuition and fees. This option allows the student to defer the reimbursed portion of tuition and fees until after the conclusion of the academic term. The Employer Reimbursement Payment Agreement is available as a downloadable form on the Bursar website: www.du.edu/bursar/employer.html.

EDUCATION TAX BENEFITS

Each calendar year the Bursar’s office sends a 1098-T form to anyone who has had tuition charges or financial aid billed through the University. You may be eligible for federal tax deductions or credits. In order to report correct tax information a valid social security number must be on file with the University. Please contact your tax advisor or IRS publications for additional information.

Quick points to facilitate paying for your education:

- File your FAFSA and supporting documents in a timely manner.
- Remember to sign your promissory note and complete an entrance interview.
- Keep records of your bills and payments.
- Take time to budget for tuition and fee expenses each academic year.

Advisors in the Bursar’s Office are available to answer your billing and payment questions.
Tuition and Fees

TUITION
Tuition for the 2010-2011 academic year is $11,868 for enrollment between 12-18 quarter hours for Graduate Studies and Graduate Professional Schools excluding the Daniels College of Business. Students enrolled in the flat rate program will be assessed tuition of $989 per quarter hour in addition to the flat rate for enrollment over 18 hours. All other programs are billed by credit hour at the following rates:

If you have adequate coverage, you may waive the insurance by completing a waiver form on myWeb (https://myweb.du.edu). The waiver must be completed by the published deadline for each term. Please print the confirmation page for your personal records.

STUDENT TECHNOLOGY FEE
To enhance opportunities for technology use in and out of the classroom and to provide multiple modalities of learning, a technology fee will be charged to all DU students. The fee will be assessed at the rate of $4 per credit hour. Students taking 12-18 hours in a program with a flat rate will be assessed a $48 technology fee.

STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE
A student activity fee of $50 per quarter is assessed to graduate students. Law students are assessed a one-time student activity fee of $190 for the first term of enrollment.

HEALTH AND COUNSELING FEE
The Student Health and Counseling fee is assessed each academic term with registration of six or more credit hours. The student health and counseling fee primarily maintains the Student Health and Counseling Center (SHCC) and reduces student out-of-pocket expenses at the SHCC. Please visit www.du.edu/duhealth or call 303.871.2205 for additional information. Graduate students may waive this fee by completing a waiver form on myWeb.
HOUSING ROOM AND BOARD

PARKING
Parking permits are billed through the Bursar tuition and fee bill. Please contact Parking Services directly for rates and policies: 303.871.3210, www.du.edu/parking.

RTD COLLEGE BUS PASS
Bus passes for graduate students are included in the student activity fee.

Law students are assessed $60 each fall and spring semester for use of the RTD College Bus Pass. This is a mandatory fee.

Call Campus Safety, should you have any questions. We are here to serve you.

CRIME PREVENTION
Crime prevention is an important part of the Department of Campus Safety. Most crimes on campus can be avoided. Our Crime Prevention Team can help educate you on how to avoid being a victim through a series of programs including:

- Vehicle Protection
- Operation Identification
- How to be Street Wise and Safe
- Sexual Assault Prevention
- Home Security
- Pepper Spray Defense
- Office Security
- Personal Safety Tips
- R.A.D. Self-Defense Program

We need your help to put a stop to crime. We want your experience at DU to be safe and enjoyable.
For additional information: Crime Prevention may be reached at 303-871-3019.
VICTIM/WITNESS SERVICES

Being victimized is often a traumatic experience. The Preventive Services Area can counsel you on the criminal justice process so that it will be understandable.

If you should become a victim or witness to a crime, Campus Safety's Preventive Services can help by:

- Providing escorts to all phases of the judicial processes.
- Providing referrals for medical, psychiatric and legal counsel.
- Providing assistance when classes conflict with court appearances.
- Conducting follow-up investigations to provide up to date information

Victim Services may be reached at 303-871-3019.

STREETWISE AND SAFE

You can do a great deal to reduce your risk of becoming a victim of crime. The most effective weapons against crime are COMMON SENSE, ALERTNESS and INVOLVEMENT. Armed with these, you can protect yourself by reducing the opportunity for muggers, purse-snatchers and other criminals to strike. By following these suggestions, you join other members of the DU Community in making the streets safer for everyone.

Elementary Street Sense

- Wherever you are, be alert to what's going on around you. Don’t daydream or become distracted. Look to see who is ahead, beside and behind you.
- Don’t listen to music via headphones or carry on a phone conversation. These actions may reduce your awareness.
- Communicate visually that you are a calm, confident individual. Stand tall with your head erect and walk purposefully. Make quick eye contact with the people around you so that you give the impression of awareness.
- Always trust your instincts. If you feel uncomfortable in a place or situation, leave as soon as possible.
- Remember, crime knows no boundaries! Don’t drop your guard just because you’re on or near DU property.

Walking Smart

- Plan the safest route to your destination and USE IT!
- Walk with a companion whenever possible.
- Take time to learn the neighborhood. A few minutes to notice what stores are open, type of street lighting and the locations of telephones may be important if you need help later.
- Keep purses close to your body and maintain a firm grip on them. Wallets should be carried in the front pocket.
- Don’t overburden yourself with books, backpacks or packages.
- Avoid carrying large amounts of cash. Leave valuables, such as expensive jewelry and clothing, at home.
• Don’t give money to strangers. Your “loose change” is not really going to help their situation. Instead, volunteer your services to local programs designed to help the needy.

• Have your path go by blue light phones if possible.

• When walking, take note of potential hiding spots and use caution as you approach them.

• Be aware that headphones played at an increased volume reduce your ability to hear sounds, which may alert you to danger.

• Use the DU Shuttle Service after dark. For schedule information call extension 13842.

Elevator Sense

• Familiarize yourself with the emergency buttons of the elevators you ride frequently. Always stand near the controls.

• Get off the elevator if someone suspicious enters. Don’t get on the elevator with someone you feel uneasy about.

• If you’re attacked while in the elevator, hit the alarm button and as many floor buttons as possible.

Jogging, Biking and other Outdoor Activities

• Go with a friend. It’s more fun and safer, too!

• Choose your route in advance and vary it. It’s not a good idea to always travel the same route, at the same time of day.

• Avoid isolated areas. Try to do your activities with others and where others are present.

Vehicular Safety

• Always lock your vehicle doors, even when driving. Don’t place valuables on the seat next to you in plain view. Keep items in the trunk.

• Have your key in hand when approaching your vehicle to allow for quick access. Remember to look into the back seat area before entering.

• Park in well lit areas, which are visible to other people.

• Keep your vehicle in good condition and always have enough gas to get where you’re going and back again.

• If you experience car trouble, raise the hood and remain in your vehicle with the doors locked. If someone offers to help, ask them to call the Police or if on campus the Campus Safety Department for you.

Tips for Buses

• Use well-lit, busy bus stops. Wait with other people when possible.

• Sit near the front of the bus, close to the driver.

• Don’t fall asleep!

• If someone is harassing you, tell him or her firmly and loudly “Leave me alone!” Persistent persons should be reported to the driver.
As you prepare to get off the bus, take note of suspicious persons who are exiting with you. Consider remaining on the bus; if necessary, ask the driver for assistance.

Be alert to who gets off the bus with you. If you feel uneasy, walk directly to a place where there are other people.

If You Become a Victim of a Crime:

• Remain calm and try not to panic.
• Try to obtain a helpful description of the assailant. Sex, race, age, height, weight, type of clothing and distinguishing marks will be valuable to the police when searching for the assailant. If a vehicle is involved, try to remember its make and license plate number.
• Don’t resist if the assailant is armed and is only after your valuables. Property can be replaced! If resistance is an option, don’t get scared, get mad! Shout “NO!” “STOP!” “FIRE!” or “CALL THE POLICE!” loud and forcefully.
• Do what you can to distract the assailant long enough to escape safely.
• After you have become the victim of a crime or have witnessed a crime, call Campus Safety or the Police immediately! Identify yourself and your location.
• Remember that any crime is a traumatic experience. We can help you get through it. Our Victim/Witness Services area offers assistance to those who have been victimized by or witnessed a criminal act. Services available include counseling and support at every step of the recovery process, including legal procedures if needed.

A Final Note
Our Crime Prevention Specialists can provide you or your group with more information about these and other safety-related topics. To schedule a safety seminar, call 303-871-3019.

VEHICLE SAFETY
Vehicle theft is a serious crime that is on the increase. Thieves steal from parking lots because the owners usually do not return to their cars for some period of time. Thefts from vehicles are also on the increase. Most vehicle thefts and thefts from motor vehicles can be prevented. But, it is up to YOU to take precautions.

Prevention Tips
1. Park in a well-lit and busy area, particularly at night or if you expect to return to your car after dark. This will allow your vehicle to be more visible to passers-by.
2. After parking your vehicle, turn the steering wheel to make sure it locks into place. On the street, turn the wheels toward the curb to make it more difficult to move or tow it.
3. Lock your car and pocket the key whenever you park your vehicle. Many stolen automobiles are left unlocked and some times with the key in the ignition! Make sure that your doors and windows are locked.
4. Close all windows and make sure the trunk or hatch is locked. Replace door locks with smooth tapered ones, which are more difficult to open with a wire or a coat hanger.

5. Take everything of value with you or lock items in your trunk. Don’t leave packages, portable radios, i-pods, loose change or other valuables in plain view to tempt a thief.

6. Never hide vehicle keys under the bumper, hood or floor mat. You won’t be able to think of a place to hide the keys that thieves don’t already know about.

7. Do not put your name, address or license plate number on your key ring. If your keys are lost or stolen, it will help a thief find your car or house.

8. When you return to your car, check to make sure your hubcaps, antenna and license plates are still attached. Memorize your license plate number.

9. Through the use of Operation ID, you can engrave your driver’s license number on items such as car stereos, tape decks, CD players, etc. You can also use the engraving tool to mark your car itself to aid in identification. Professional car thieves often remove the manufacturer’s Vehicle Identification numbers (VIN) but may overlook one that you engraved onto the vehicle. Campus Safety provides FREE use of an electric engraving tool.

10. Drop personal business cards or return address labels down the windows inside of the car doors. These may be used by authorities to positively identify your car.

11. Notify Campus Safety of burned-out lights, debris, defective gate mechanisms, damaged fencing or other problems in the parking areas.

12. IMMEDIATELY report suspicious persons or activity around vehicles to Campus Safety, by using a Blue Light Phone when practical. It is important to report all crimes to Campus Safety so that appropriate action can be taken. Investigations involving autos are enhanced when a pattern can be established.

Anti-theft Devices

- “The Wheel Lock,” when locked into place onto a steering wheel, prevents it from being turned.
- Alarms that activate a siren, horn, lights, door, hood or trunk when opened.
- A steel collar that fits over the steering column, preventing a thief from “prying open” the column to start the ignition.
- A locking hood or gas cap.
- Transparent film which, when applied to windows, renders the glass many times stronger. The glass will break upon impact but will stay in place when shattered.

Campus Safety Services

- Closed Circuit Television Cameras are installed in some University parking lots. Campus Safety Dispatchers are able to monitor, record, scan and zoom in on activity in the parking lots.
- If you need a jump-start, call Campus Safety for free assistance.
- Campus Safety routinely patrols University parking lots daily.
- Blue Light Emergency Phones are available in and near University parking lots.
DU SHUTTLE SERVICE PROGRAM

The University of Denver, like most institutions of higher education is confronted with challenges for all members of its community. In order for the University to attain its mission and goals, the safety and welfare of the entire community must be met, including faculty, staff and students.

The DU Shuttle Service (formally called the DU SafeRide) is a pro-active step, initiated by undergraduate and graduate students, to ensure the safety needs of the entire community. To that end, DU Shuttle Service will provide dedicated van escort service during the academic year from early evening through early morning hours for any person with a DU Pioneer ID Card. See the Campus Safety website www.du.edu/campus-safety for more information.

The DU Shuttle Service will operate a fixed route that will circle through the campus stopping at high-traffic destinations with a 12-passenger van. In addition, there will be an ADA compliant van that will provide point-to-point access for individuals with disabilities.

Bike Theft Prevention
U-LEAVE IT U-LOCK IT
Anyone that parks a bicycle on the University Park Campus is required to secure their bike with a U-Locking device. Cables and ordinary padlocks are easily defeated by thieves and should never be used.
When a bicycle is found to be secured with an inadequate lock, chain, or cable, a Campus Safety Officer may secure the bike with a U-Lock. A “Notice of Immobilization” card will be placed on your bicycle with instructions on how to get your bicycle released.

In order to get your bicycle released:
You must contact the Parking Service Office during regular business hours: 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday
Please call 303-871-3825

After business hours; contact Campus Safety: 5:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday
Please call 303-871-2334

Registration
All bicycles parked on campus should be registered with the Transportation Center located in the Evans Parking Structure building. Registration is free and can be accomplished Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Bicycle registration is also available at other locations at the beginning of each academic quarter. Bicycle safety information, city maps and laws are available as well.

To register your bicycle, you need only the make, model, and serial number. An identification number is engraved onto the frame with an electric engraver. A sticker with this identification number is placed over the engraving.

For information or advice on proper storage of your property, contact the crime prevention division of the Department of Campus Safety at 303-871-2139 and press 4 for Crime Prevention.

Bike Safety Tips
- Wear a helmet! A helmet can prevent serious or even fatal head injuries. Your helmet should be replaced if it has taken the impact of a crash or after five years of normal use.
- Wear gloves and comfortable, bright colored clothing.
- Carry only what the bicycle is designed or equipped to carry.
- Assume that other drivers don’t see you until you are sure that they do. Eye contact is important with any driver which might pose a threat to your safety.
- Ride predictably. Obey traffic laws and traffic control devices. Do not impede the flow of traffic and use hand signals. Ride with traffic, not against it.
- Always give pedestrians the right-of-way.
- Respect the normal flow of pedestrian traffic.
- Secure your bicycle to an authorized bike rack; not a tree, guardrail, light post, etc. This will ensure that your bike will not be in a position that blocks pedestrian flow.
- Use lights and reflective clothing at night.
- Slow down at intersections and look for on-coming traffic. Obey traffic control devices.
RAPE AGGRESSION DEFENSE

R.A.D. PROFILE
The national standard in self-defense Instructor Certification, R.A.D. is internationally recognized for programming quality and organizational commitment to excellence. R.A.D. Systems balances the needs of women to acquire self-defense education in a relatively short period of time, with the lifelong commitment required for physical skill mastery. How? By providing short term training opportunities in a progressive building block format, and combining each with R.A.D.’s trademark Lifetime Return and Practice Policy! Only a unified, extensive network can provide this service, honored nationwide and throughout Canada. While other programs and/or instructors struggle to keep pace, R.A.D. Instructors share life saving information with confidence, knowing that their lessons will be continuously reinforced for a lifetime!

WHAT IS R.A.D.?
The Rape Aggression Defense System is a program of realistic self-defense tactics and techniques for women. The R.A.D. System is a comprehensive, women-only course that begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and risk avoidance, while progressing on to the basics of hands-on defense training.

R.A.D. is not a Martial Arts program.

Nationally certified R.A.D. instructors teach the course. Tyrone A. Mills is the R.A.D. Coordinator for the University of Denver Department of Campus Safety.

Larry Nadeau, a former Marine and full-time police officer, first developed the RAD Systems of self-defense in 1989. His original intention was to create an affordable, accessible, realistic program that would specifically address the self-defense needs of women. Nadeau believed that a well-structured system that could be easily learned and assimilated was needed. What Nadeau has done is take a lot of different martial arts and defensive tactics movements and forms, and reduced them to a few basic, easy-to-learn, and effective techniques. This basic self-defense course actually becomes, in effect, an introduction to applied aggression for females.

WHY R.A.D.?
R.A.D. is the largest network of its kind, with over 2000 instructors actively teaching at various colleges and institutions today, and almost 4000 total instructors trained to date.

R.A.D. has trained over 200,000 women since the program began in 1989.

R.A.D. is the only existing program with a free lifetime return and practice policy, honored throughout both the US and Canada.

R.A.D. has developed specialized simulation techniques and equipment for use by certified R.A.D. instructors.

R.A.D. is the only self-defense program ever endorsed by the International Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators (IACLEA).

Parking Services

There are two types of parking lots on campus: lots that require a permit and pay-by-space visitor lots. Students living in on-campus housing with a vehicle on campus are required to purchase a University of Denver parking permit (General or Restricted). Parking on residential streets is prohibited.

HOW TO APPLY FOR A PARKING PERMIT:

Permits are sold via a secure web site. The web address is: www.parking.du.edu

Step 1:
Review the information needed to select and purchase a permit for your customer group, including prices, which is under the “Permits” tab. Restricted parking permits are sold on a first-come, first served basis until sold out. General and Night/Weekend permits can be purchased at anytime throughout the school year. All permits are sold online at www.parking.du.edu. Motorcycle permits are the only permits sold in person at the Parking Office.

Step 2:
Select the “Purchase Permits” tab located on the top right side of the Permit Information page. You will be directed to an Account Login screen.

Step 3:
Enter your DU ID number and password. Your password is the same password used to access webCentral.

* Resident students can only purchase a permit after they have received confirmation of their room assignments.

Students that missed the deadlines for Restricted (gated) lots may still purchase other types of permits (Generals & Night/Weekends) on our web page at any time. When a lot’s permit allocation is reached you may purchase your 2nd choice and put your name on the waitlist for your first choice. We will make periodic waitlist offerings as space becomes available in order to optimize the utilization of a lot. The only way to purchase any parking permit is online at www.parking.du.edu. Don’t delay, purchase on-line now!
IMPORTANT
Due to the high demand for parking spaces at the University of Denver, parking lots must be monitored seven days a week, 24 hours a day, to ensure availability for permit holders. All vehicles parked in a Restricted or General parking lot must display a valid DU parking permit. Permits are not valid for specifically reserved spaces. Any vehicle not displaying a proper permit will be ticketed. Initial parking fines range from $15 to $100. Unpaid tickets will result in a hold on a student's registration and may result in the vehicle immobilization or the car being towed. Unregistered vehicles are subject to the same rules and regulations as registered vehicles.

LOT INFORMATION
General lots – These lots are available on a first-come, first-served basis for those individuals displaying a valid University parking permit. General lots are identified by yellow signage at the lot entrance and by a 100-series number. Restricted permits and General permits are valid in General lots at all times. A Night/Weekend – Basic permit is valid from 4 pm to 7 am, Monday through Friday, and all times on weekends in General lots. Several Restricted lots (including Lots F, H1, O, and W) become “General” lots from 4 pm to 7 am, Monday through Friday and all times on weekends. General - Basic permits and Night/Weekend - Basic permits are sold throughout the year on an unlimited basis by visiting our secure web page at www.parking.du.edu.

Restricted lots – These lots are gated and controlled by card access. The gates are down, depending on the lot, either 24/7 or only during the hours of 4 am to 4 pm. A Restricted lot permit is valid only at one corresponding Restricted lot and any General lot. A University ID card is used to gain entry into these lots. Only a limited number of permits are sold for each of these lots. We control the amount of permits sold into these lots to help ensure that a parking space is available when a permit holder desires to park. We do our best to ensure there is always a place to park, however, at the highest demand times, it is not guaranteed. Overflow parking is directed to General parking lots.

Health and Counseling Center

THE HEALTH & COUNSELING CENTER (HCC) IS HERE TO MEET YOUR HEALTH CARE NEEDS

The HCC is an outpatient, on-campus facility that provides a wide range of medical and mental health services. Physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, psychologists, registered nurses and other professionals staff the center. All students enrolled for academic credit (full-time or part-time) may use the HCC. Students’ spouses are also welcome for general medical care. The HCC staff adheres to strict confidentiality requirements so patients and clients can be assured of privacy.

MAKING APPOINTMENTS

We are conveniently located on campus and provide same day appointments for illness and injury. You can schedule your appointment online at www.du.edu/duhealth the morning of the day you would like to be seen. Services are available between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday (9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Tuesdays).

BENEFITS OF USING THE HCC

Many prescription medications are available at discounted prices. Most laboratory tests can be obtained here. In addition, we offer in-house specialist services such as dermatology, nutrition, gynecology, and psychiatry. We also coordinate other specialty referral services when needed.

THE HEALTH & COUNSELING FEE ($144 per quarter, $216 per semester)

The Health & Counseling Fee primarily maintains the HCC. It is listed as a separate charge on the tuition bill each term when you enroll for at least 6 quarter credit hours in a traditional university program. If you are taking fewer credits, you can pay the fee at the HCC because it will not automatically appear on your tuition bill. Although graduate students may waive this fee by completing a waiver on-line at http://myweb.du.edu each term before the waiver deadline, we highly recommend that you keep the fee because participating in the Health & Counseling Fee greatly reduces your out-of-pocket expenses when you are seen at the HCC.
THE DU STUDENT HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN (SHIP) ($2,420 semi-annually in fall and spring)
The University recognizes that good health is essential for success in the academic community and DU requires that ALL students carry adequate health insurance coverage. DU sponsors a comprehensive, affordable, health insurance plan for degree seeking students taking 1 or more hours of graded credit. Students enrolled for 6 credit or more graded credit hours in a traditional programs will have the insurance premium assessed on the tuition bill each coverage period. Students taking less than 6 hours of graded credit will have to manually enroll in the SHIP at the HCC. To waive the premium from the tuition bill, proof of adequate health insurance coverage must be submitted by completing a waiver on-line at http://myweb.du.edu before the waiver deadline. Students are responsible for verifying all charges on the tuition bills. Please visit our website below or call the HCC for specific information on the plan, coverage periods, rates, and enrollment and waiver processes.

 Keeping both the Health & Counseling Fee and Student Health Insurance Plan is the best way to receive the most coverage and have little or no out-of-pocket costs to you at the HCC. Participation in both of these programs simultaneously provides the best possible coverage for the costs of services at the HCC.

DU IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

Colorado State Law and University of Denver policy require two (2) doses of vaccine against measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR). Both doses must have been received after 12 months of age and at least one month or more apart.

DU wants to protect its students and the campus community. These infections and their consequences can be devastating. Medical research has shown that two (2) shots are needed to provide adequate protection.

Students born after December 31, 1956, who are enrolled in traditional University programs, both undergraduate and graduate, including law, must comply with this requirement. English Language Center students must also meet the requirement.

The MMR vaccine is available at the Health & Counseling Center.
If proof of immunity is not provided to the HCC, you will not be allowed to register for classes. In the event of an outbreak of one of these viruses on campus, you will be withdrawn from classes by the Health Department until the outbreak is contained (this can take 6 to 8 weeks!). You will not be eligible for a tuition credit under these circumstances.

Proof of adequate immunization can be submitted in several ways:

- The form provided by DU, completed with immunizations dated (month, day, year), and signed by your physician or the physician’s representative. Forms are available at www.du.edu/duhealth.
- A photocopy of your previous school immunization record, signed by a school nurse.
- A physician’s immunization record, with signature.
- Proof of immunity through blood testing. A copy of the lab results must be included.

Please note that, according to Colorado regulations, a history of having had measles, mumps, or rubella disease is not acceptable proof of immunity, even if documented by a physician.

Mail your documentation to:

OTHER VACCINES TO CONSIDER…
Although the following vaccines are not required by DU for registration, they will protect you against some serious diseases that are prevalent among University students.

Meningitis
Meningococcal meningitis is a contagious disease that is frequently fatal. Studies have demonstrated that students who live in communal environments such as residence halls or sorority/fraternity houses are the most likely to contract meningococcal disease. There is a vaccine available which provides protection.
Influenza
Priority for administration of influenza vaccine is given to those persons at high risk of complications from contracting the “flu”, i.e., those with chronic cardiac and respiratory conditions and diabetes. However, anyone who is frequently in group settings such as classrooms and residence halls should consider obtaining the vaccine prior to the flu season, when the vaccine is made available to the general population.

Hepatitis B
Hepatitis B is a virus that is carried in the blood and body fluids of an infected person. It can be transmitted sexually or through contact with blood and other body fluids. Long-lasting infection can cause liver failure, liver cancer, and death. A series of three vaccines is protective.

Human Papillomavirus (HPV)
HPV is a virus that causes cervical cancer. The HPV vaccine is currently recommended for females ages 9 through 26 years. The series of three vaccines protects against 70% of HPV strains causing cervical cancer and 90% of strains causing genital warts.

These vaccines, along with all immunizations required for travel abroad, are available at the Health & Counseling Center.

University Technology Services

Welcome to the University of Denver! University Technology Services provides the infrastructure and the information that connect DU communities. With service as our focus, we help DU faculty, staff and students get what they need.

DU ID/EMAIL ADDRESS

Your DU ID, email address and passcode are issued anytime up to 250 days before the beginning of the quarter and sent via US Mail to your home address. The DU ID and passcode are used to access many resources including webCentral - the DU portal, wireless networking, etc. If you have not received your DU ID and you have deposited and/or registered for classes, please contact the Office of the Registrar at 303.871.4095. Employees should contact Human Resources at 303.871.7420. Please note that if you are both an employee and a student, you will only have one DU ID assigned.

PUBLIC PRINTERS

DU is pleased to offer students use of black/white laser printers and color printers in a number of locations on campus. A printing budget is allotted to students each quarter for use of these printers. If your print budget for a given quarter is exhausted, you have the option of depositing additional funds in a separate account to use for printing until your quarterly budget is recharged again. Please check http://dunet.du.edu for additional information including software and feature.

GETTING TECHNOLOGY HELP

DU has a vast technology support network for the mobile laptop community:

University Technology Services Help Center: The University Technology Services Help Center is located in Penrose Library and offers telephone, email, on-line and walk-in computer support for all faculty, staff and students at the University of Denver. Walk in support is available days, evenings and weekends. For hours and more information about the Help Center, please visit www.du.edu/uts/helpdesk/.

Departmental Assistance: Many departments offer technical help in your specific field of study. You may find the link to your program’s website at www.du.edu/grad.

NETWORK ACCESS

DU offers multiple types of networking including wired, wireless, VPN and modems. As of fall 2010, we offer the following:

Wired Networking: There are over 36,000 wired Ethernet data ports across campus including the library, the commons rooms, classrooms and every residence hall room (a port for every pillow). Approximately 85% are 1000 Megabits per second (i.e. gigabit).
Wireless Networking: Our campus wireless network is in the midst of its fourth upgrade in the last ten years. By the end of 2010 we will have approximately (700) 802.11n wireless access points across campus with ubiquitous coverage. PioneerNet is PRIVATE and SECURED. Access to the network requires logging into the system using your DU ID and passcode. Your wireless network card needs to support WPA/WPA2 Enterprise (also called 802.1x) and one of the 802.11b/g/a/n standards. For a complete map of wireless coverage, please visit: http://www.du.edu/maps/wifi.

VPN (Virtual Private Network Appliance): Using your own Internet service, this appliance offers off-campus users the same access as being on campus. The VPN offers encryption and security and this type of off-campus access can be a requirement for some courses and applications. You can reach the VPN at https://vpn-external.du.edu.

Modem Pool: Low speed modem access usage continues to drop dramatically; we are now down to (24) 56K dial up modems and often see less than half of those busy at any given time. The majority of students, faculty, and staff living off campus have migrated to faster broadband services.

COMPUTER LABS
The University of Denver has a number of computer labs on campus. Some of these are staffed, are open to the entire student population, and allow public printing, while others have restrictions. For a complete list of labs, services and hours, please visit http://www.du.edu/uts/helpdesk/resources/labs.html.

WEBCENTRAL
WebCentral is DU’s portal. WebCentral provides secure, single sign-on access to most of DU’s online services for students, faculty, and staff. This one-stop portal presents a personalized view of webmail, personal calendars, grades, registration, account information, Blackboard courses, DU announcements, and DU events. Your webCentral layout will change automatically in response to changes in your relationship to DU. WebCentral also includes customization options that allow you to add and remove content to suit your view of DU’s online resources. To access webCentral, please visit http://webcentral.du.edu.

BLACKBOARD
Blackboard is the University’s officially supported on-line course tool. Many of your courses may have a Blackboard component. Blackboard has many tools, and each course will differ slightly depending on how the instructor chooses to use Blackboard. To access Blackboard, you will need an active DU ID and passcode. If your account is currently active and you know your passcode, please visit Blackboard at: http://blackboard.du.edu. Here you will find detailed instructions and support information for faculty and students.
DU PORTFOLIO

The DU Portfolio Community is an on-line portfolio for life where you can upload papers, vitas, photos, etc. Some courses require students to post assignments in the DU Portfolio, while other encourage collaborative projects. Most often, students use DU PC as a place to showcase their talents to future employers. The DU PC can be accessed through webCentral, or directly at http://portfolio.du.edu.

MYWEB

MyWeb provides secure access to your personal information. Students can register for classes, check class schedules, check for grades, access unofficial transcripts, check account information, and more. You must have your 9-digit DU ID that begins with the digits “87” and passcode. ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

Computers connected to the campus network have direct access to the Internet. In order to protect the University of Denver's status within the Internet and assure legitimate access to University computers, people using University computers and the campus network will be expected to abide by the following rules:

- All illegal activities are prohibited. Prohibited activities include but are not limited to distributing copyrighted material such as software, text or images in ways prohibited by the copyright holder, breaking into computers or computer accounts that you are not authorized to use, and monitoring network traffic in order to obtain passwords or other private information. Persons found to be using University computers or the campus network for illegal activities may have their network access privileges revoked. Any evidence of illegal use of the network will be turned over to appropriate authorities.

- All commercial activities other than University of Denver business are prohibited. Specifically, resale of network connectivity, operation of a business through the network, and sale of computing resources are prohibited. Persons found to be using University computers or the campus network for commercial activities other than University of Denver business may have their network access privileges revoked.

- Using excessive bandwidth is prohibited. The campus network and the Internet are shared by many people. Sustained high traffic generated by an individual computer or an individual network access account can interfere with activities of others. When monitoring reveals excessive traffic by individual computers or individual network access accounts, system personnel will attempt to contact the owners of these computers or accounts and ask them to correct the problem. If problems cannot be resolved expeditiously, offending computers may be disconnected from the network or offending network access accounts may be suspended.
• Placing an excessive load on central computers is prohibited. Central computers are also a shared resource. When monitoring reveals that a program is placing an excessive load on a central computer, the offending program will be terminated. Usually special arrangements may be made for running programs that legitimately require large amounts of computer time.

• Disguising or falsifying message sources is prohibited. Persons who attempt to mislead, defraud or harass others by disguising or falsifying sources of electronic mail or other signed messages may have their network access privileges revoked.

• Misuse of IP numbers is prohibited. Using an IP number other than one assigned to you and your computer is prohibited. Computers using IP numbers not assigned to them will be disconnected from the network.

• Interfering with legitimate use of network resources by others is prohibited. For example, activities such as using packet sniffers to monitor network communications, harassing other users of the network, damaging other people's files, propagating chain electronic letters, sending junk electronic mail, and posting articles to multiple inappropriate newsgroups are prohibited. Persons found to be interfering with legitimate use of network resources by others may have their network access privileges revoked.

Pioneer ID Card

ID CARD ADVANTAGES
The Pioneer ID Card is a student’s official identification while attending the University of Denver. All students are required to carry the ID card while on campus. The Pioneer Card allows students to access their residence hall, the Penrose Library, the Ritchie Center, the Law Library, parking lots, and several academic buildings throughout campus. The Pioneer ID Card also functions as a debit card for the Meal Plan and the Flex debit account. The card allows students to purchase discounted tickets to DU entertainment and sporting events, such as hockey games and theater productions. Students assessed activity fees also receive an RTD College Pass, which allows for free transportation on all RTD services.

OBTAINING A PIONEER ID CARD
All students must be registered for classes and present a photo ID at the Pioneer ID Card Office, located in Driscoll University Center’s South Wing on the lower level, during operating hours to receive their Pioneer ID Card. You must also be within 30 days from your accepted term to receive your card. There is no charge for your first ID card. Replacement IDs are $20. If your card is damaged, it can be replaced for only $5. Distance learning students (online course work or remote campus) must submit a Pioneer Card Request Form, which can be obtained online at www.du.edu/pioneercard.

ACCOUNTS
The Pioneer ID Card offers a convenient debit account, as well as the Meal Plan accounts.

Flex Account: The Flex account is our flexible spending (debit) account. Flex funds can be spent at many on and off-campus locations. Please visit the Pioneer ID Card Office website for a complete listing (www.du.edu/pioneercard).

Meal Plan: The meal plan offers a meal account and a meal plan cash account. The meal account provides a set number of meals to be used in Centennial Halls and Nelson dining halls. The meal plan cash account can be used for purchasing food items from several locations around campus. Please contact the Department of Residence for information on meal plan options at 303-871-2246.

DEPOSITS
Deposits to a student’s Flex account can be made online with a credit card (www.du.edu/pioneercard) or in person with cash or check. Funds deposited online will be available immediately. Deposits made in the Pioneer ID Card Office will be available for use the following morning. The minimum deposit required is $1.00. Accounts inactive for over 12 months will be charged a $5.00 monthly service charge. Cash deposits to a student’s flex account can also be made at the Penrose Library by using the Value Transfer Station (VTS). These deposits are available for use immediately.

Disability Services Program

The Disability Services Program (DSP) provides reasonable accommodations as required by the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act to students with documented disabilities to afford them equal opportunity to participate in the University's programs, courses and activities. Disabilities protected under the laws include: physical disabilities, psychological disabilities, health-related disabilities, learning disabilities, and Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). Accommodations are arranged in an individualized collaborative manner, based on appropriate documentation of the disability. DSP also provides intake and referral services for students who think they may have a learning disability or ADHD but have never been tested.

DEFINITION OF A DISABILITY
A disability is a condition that substantially limits a “major life activity” such as walking, hearing, seeing, speaking, breathing, learning, communicating, and operations of major bodily functions.

INTAKE PROCESS
Prospective students who have questions about accommodations, students accepted and current University of Denver students may contact DSP to discuss possible accommodations and to review documentation.

DSP is located in Ruffatto Hall; 1999 E. Evans Ave.; corner of High and Evans streets; 4th floor; 303-871-2278.

DOCUMENTATION
In order to be eligible for services, documentation of disability is required. This information is confidential and will not be part of a student’s university record. Documentation Guidelines for specific disabilities or medical conditions can be found on the DSP website, www.du.edu/disability/dsp.

ACCOMMODATIONS
Academic accommodations are arranged on an individualized, collaborative basis, so it is crucial that prospective and current students contact DSP as early as possible. Students who wish to receive accommodations must self-disclose their disability to DSP Staff. Upon disclosure, students are required to complete an In-Take packet and provide documentation of their disability.
Accommodations provided through DSP are free to qualifying students. Appropriate accommodations through DSP may include:

- Test accommodations
- Alternate format texts & materials
- Assistance with course substitutions, i.e. foreign language
- Classroom changes
- Adaptive furniture
- Liaison to university communities
- Note takers
- Sign language/oral interpreters
- Diagnostic referrals for LD/ADHD

REFERRAL SERVICES
If a student is experiencing academic difficulty and is concerned that s/he may have a learning disability, ADHD or a psychological disorder, referral services are available. Another service that may be available to qualifying students is the Learning Effectiveness Program (LEP) – this is a fee-for-service program that works with students who have learning disabilities and/or ADHD. Additional information about the LEP can be found on the website, www.du.edu/disability/lep.
Multicultural Excellence

The mission of the Center for Multicultural Excellence is to advance a culture of Inclusive Excellence at the University of Denver. This mission is carried out through a variety of programming and services for students, staff, faculty, administrators and alumni representing different social identity groups including gender identity, gender expression, race, ethnicity, religion, nationality, ability status, sexual orientation, age and other major social dimensions found on the DU campus.

All efforts of the Center for Multicultural Excellence are designed to create a welcoming and inclusive campus and to recruit, identify, develop, and utilize the talents, gifts, and perspectives of every DU community member. Below are few of the specific opportunities and resources available for graduate students, beyond your invitation to participate in most any CME offered programs and services.

GRADUATE WORKSHOP SERIES TO PREPARE STUDENTS FOR A CAREER IN ACADEMIA
Every year, CME’s Office of Multicultural Recruitment and Retention, the Office of Graduate Studies, The Office of Sponsorship and Research Programs, and the Graduate Student Association Council offers this series that includes presentations by experts in the field addressing strategies for completing the dissertation, preparing a curriculum vitae and cover letter, negotiating faculty contracts, how to balance research, teaching, and community service, understanding the tenure process, the importance and value of mentoring and networking, and navigating various employment obstacles and challenges. For more information contact Dr. Fernando Guzman at fguzman@du.edu.

BLACK GRADUATE STUDENT GROUP
By request, in 2010, CME staff, a Morgridge College of Education student, a Women’s College staff person and a student from the Graduate School of Social Work started a Black graduate student group for the entire university. Currently, various graduate student groups exist for Black students within their colleges; and the goal of this group is to connect the Black graduate students across the university. For more information or to join the group’s listserv please email Black-grad@du.edu. This is a listserv address, and either cannot or should not be the more info request source. (Emails to it will either be rejected or sent out to all subscribers — either way not best way to connect people.) Is there someone specifically interested students could contact?
FACILITATION OPPORTUNITIES:
Graduate students can also be trained and gain experience in small group dialogue and/or educational workshop facilitation through regular programs such as the Voices of Discovery Dialogues (winter quarter) and Queer and Ally (Q&A) Training (ongoing).

Program and Policy Development and Implementation
Very interested graduate students may be able to participate in ongoing efforts to develop/improve CME programs, and/or serve on committees and advisory board working to support, review and improve the campus climate for diversity.

Study/Meeting Facilities
Students are also welcome to access our facilities 24 hours a day, seven days a week. We provide basic computer access, study and small group meeting space, and a basic kitchenette. For more information please visit www.du.edu/cme/building_policy.html

Gender Violence Education and Support Services

The mission of the Gender Violence Education and Support Services (GVESS) office is to educate the University of Denver campus community about gender violence related issues, including domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking. GVESS also provides support services to victims, survivors, and secondary survivors of gender violence.

The philosophy behind the GVESS office states that everyone has the right to live without abuse, fear, and violence. GVESS recognizes that gender violence is a community problem and that women and men must work together to eradicate it from our society. The GVESS office believes that by providing educational resources, endorsing healthy relationships, promoting bystander interventions, and advocating for victim and survivor rights, we can help change the societal conditions that cause gender violence.

As part of our mission to educate, GVESS oversees the Gender Violence Resource Center, which is located in Nelson Hall room #102. The center houses a collection of books, journal articles, and videos about gender violence. These materials range from prevention strategies, causes of, and self-help workbooks for victims and survivors. A lending process is in place for DU community members.

GVESS also works with people whose lives are affected by gender violence and the multifaceted problems they face. We assist victims and survivors, their friends, and family by providing support during all stages of reporting and recovery. We understand that every victim and survivor responds to a traumatic experience in a different way. GVESS is committed to treating victims and survivors with dignity and respect and supports their autonomy in decisions when working toward self-identified goals. All of our counseling and referral services are confidential and free of charge. Support services are provided in Nelson Hall room #103 or by calling 303-871-3853.

GVESS oversees the DU Sexual Assault Survivor Advocate Network (The SASA Network), which assists DU students, staff, faculty, and visitors who have been sexually assaulted. Victim Advocates are trained to provide emotional support and referral information for victims, survivors, and their friends and family. The SASA Network operates the 24/7 crisis line during the fall, winter, and spring quarters. To contact an advocate, please dial 303-871-3456.

GVESS serves individuals who have had their lives impacted by gender violence in a culturally-competent, non-judgmental, and empathic way. We serve women, men and transgender individuals of all racial, ethnic, religious, class backgrounds, sexual orientations, and social identities.

YOUR REPRESENTATIVE GRADUATE STUDENT GOVERNMENT BODY

The Graduate Student Association Council (GSAC) is your representative graduate student association at the University of Denver. Comprised of members from each graduate unit’s respective student associations, GSAC plays a unique role as the lead advocate for the interests of DU’s entire graduate student community. As your primary advocate, GSAC’s mission is to foster a sense of community among graduate students and to represent that community and its interests before DU’s administration.

BELOW ARE JUST A FEW OF THE GSAC HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 2009-2010 YEAR.

FALL QUARTER 2009
• GSAC organized an orientation happy hour resource fair aimed at getting new graduate students connected with campus services and programs. There were approximately 750 graduate students in attendance.
• GSAC organized the second annual ‘Grad Games’ bringing graduate students from various programs of study together for some friendly competition during homecoming weekend with approximately 120 participants.

WINTER QUARTER 2010
• GSAC organized, along with the Undergraduate Student Government and the Student Bar Association, the first DU Graduate Experience Day. This brought together undergraduate and graduate students and allowed graduate students the opportunity to answer questions about graduate study in different fields.
• GSAC organized a graduate student social at Stick-E-Star and graduate student night at the CU-COLORADO College Hockey Game with approximately 250 attendees.
• GSAC and the Student Bar Association (SBA) attended a dinner with the Chancellor and other university administrators at the Phipps Mansion.
• GSAC worked with the Center for Multicultural Excellence to bring graduate workshops back to DU. The workshop topics included completing the dissertation process and the IRB process.

SPRING QUARTER 2010
• GSAC assisted the Career Center in volunteering for Project Homeless Connect 2008 in the resume writing and interviewing skills areas.
• GSAC worked with the Center for Multicultural Excellence to offer additional graduate workshops. The workshop topics included brainstorming thesis and dissertation topics, managing your online face, and Resume and CV writing.
• Over the course of the year, GSAC provided conference and research funding to approximately 25 graduate students, helping them with expenses incurred while going to professional conferences and while conducting research.
