THE NEXT WEST: 20TH ANNIVERSARY LAND USE CONFERENCE

SPEAKER BIOS

RMLUI
ROCKY MOUNTAIN LAND USE INSTITUTE
SPEAKER BIOS:

Jill Alexander, Douglas County Government
100 Third Street, Castle Rock, CO 80104
720-733-6924 jalexand@douglas.co.us

Jill Alexander received her undergraduate degree in natural resources management from Colorado State University in 1991 and her master’s degree in environmental policy and management from the University of Denver in 1998. She spent over five years with the US Forest Service in timber sale administration and sale preparation. At Douglas County she started in stormwater management and erosion control. In wildfire mitigation she has grown the program to include education and outreach, development review, and forest stewardship consulting for the County Open Space Department. Ms. Alexander worked collaboratively with homeowner groups, conservation organizations, and other professional resources groups to complete Community Wildfire Protection Plans (CWPPs) and mitigation projects.

Joyce Allgaier, Clarion Associates
95 Forge Road, Aspen, CO 81611
970-379-8541 jallgaier@clarionassociates.com

Joyce Allgaier has over 25 years of professional experience primarily with municipal governments, notably Aspen & Snowmass Village, and Shelburne and Williston, Vermont. Her areas of expertise include: sustainable community codes and strategies, current planning/development review, environmental and natural resource conservation, open space/corridor planning, historic preservation, and planning department management & organization. She is currently working on sustainable code projects in Salt Lake City, Miami-Dade, and St. Louis County, and completed similar projects in Abu Dhabi and Washington, D.C. Ms. Allgaier serves as faculty on APA’s Professional Training Services teaching about building sustainability into comprehensive plans and codes.

Cameron Artigue, Gammage & Burnham
Two North Central, Phoenix, AZ 85004
602-256-4418 cartigue@gblaw.com

Cameron Artigue’s practice emphasizes appeals and complex motions in civil cases. He has briefed and argued more than 100 appeals in all Arizona courts, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court. He has practiced extensively in the field of land use litigation, encompassing the disputes that arise from planning, zoning and other land use issues, and is an adjunct Professor of Law at Arizona State University. Mr. Artigue received his bachelor’s degree summa cum laude in economics and political science from Claremont McKenna College. He received his law degree from the University of California at Berkeley, where he was a member of the California Law Review.

Tina Axelrad, City & County of Denver
201 West Colfax Ave, Denver, CO 80202
720-865-2937 tina.axelrad@denvergov.org

Tina Axelrad is a principal city planner with the City and County of Denver. Major projects she has managed or participated in while with Denver include the comprehensive Denver Zoning Code update (successfully adopted in 2010); preparation of the general development plan for 9th and Colorado redevelopment; and numerous zoning map and text amendments. Prior to her work with Denver, Ms. Axelrad was a principal with Clarion Associates, where she worked on numerous zoning and development code updates, design standards and guidelines, process streamlining, and redevelopment plans.
Jessica Bacher, Land Use Law Center Pace Law School
78 North Broadway, White Plains, NY 10603
914-422-4090 jbacher@law.pace.edu

Jessica Bacher is the Director of Research and Innovation, and is a Senior Managing Attorney for the Land Use Law Center of Pace University School of Law. She is also an adjunct professor of law at Pace Law School where she teaches Land Use Law and the Advanced Land Use and Real Estate Seminar, runs the academic programs, and guides student research in areas such as sea level rise and smart growth. She received her J.D. summa cum laude from Pace Law School in 2003 along with a certificate in Environmental Law. While in law school, she published two scholarly articles in professional law journals on the topic of using land use law to preserve barrier islands. She coauthors a regular land use feature in the New York Law Journal and Real Estate Law Journal.

Sarah Bates, Center for Natural Resources & Environmental Policy
The University of Montana, Missoula, MT 59802
406-207-9071 sarah@cnrep.org

Sarah Bates has written and spoken extensively on western water law and policy through university research appointments, conservation advocacy positions, and consulting work. She currently works with the Center for Natural Resources & Environmental Policy at the University of Montana, and maintains an active legal consulting practice. Bates is a graduate of the University of Colorado Law School, where she subsequently returned to serve as the associate director of the Natural Resources Law Center and was appointed to the NRLC advisory board in 2011. Her most recent book (with Larry MacDonnell) is The Evolution of Natural Resources Law and Policy, published by the American Bar Association in 2009.

Ralph Becker, Salt Lake City
PO Box 145474, Salt Lake City, UT 84111
801-535-7743 ralph.becker@slcgov.com

Salt Lake City Mayor Ralph Becker has served as the Utah State Planning Coordinator, launched a consulting firm specializing in community planning, and was elected to the Utah State Legislature in 1996. In 2008, Mayor Becker brought this considerable body of education, experience and engagement with local issues to his new office of Mayor of Salt Lake City. In the first three years of his first term, Mayor Becker has greatly expanded transportation options for the City’s residents and visitors, with a special focus on public transit, trails and bikeways. Mayor Becker is a leader who has made, and will continue to make, collaboration and partnerships an essential element in his efforts to see Salt Lake City as an even more vibrant, liveable and sustainable community for its current residents and into the future.

James Borgel, Holland & Hart LLP
555 17th Street, Denver, CO 80202
303-295-8245 jbborgel@hollandhart.com

James Borgel is a partner in the Denver office of Holland & Hart LLP. He is an AV rated land use and real estate attorney with over 25 years of experience representing private and public sector clients in the acquisition, entitlement, development and sale of real estate projects. Recent projects include the development of a number of alternative and conventional energy projects throughout Colorado such as wind farms, solar farms, pipelines and transmission lines. Before joining Holland & Hart in 2005, Mr. Borgel was general counsel for the developer of two mixed use projects totaling over 5500 acres and was assistant general counsel for the original developer of the 22,000 acre Highlands Ranch project in Douglas County, Colorado.
Alyssa Bradley, Young Anderson, Barristers & Solicitors
1616-808 Nelson Street, Vancouver, BC V6Z 2H2
604-689-7400 bradley@younganderson.ca

Alyssa Bradley graduated from the University of Alberta with a bachelor of science in Environmental Biology and the University of Victoria Faculty of Law. For the past seven years she has been an associate with Young Anderson, a firm that specializes in local government law. Before practicing law, she worked in forest research for the University of Alberta and the Canadian Forest Service. She is actively involved with the University of Victoria Environmental Law Centre and currently holds an executive position with the British Columbia Chapter of the Canadian Bar Association Environmental Law Section. She has authored several papers, including a paper on municipal pesticide regulation for the International Municipal Lawyers Association and a paper on municipal powers to battle climate change and green communities for the Continuing Legal Education Society of British Columbia seminar Environmental Law: In the Public Interest.

Rick Brady, Esq., City of Greeley
1100 Tenth St, Greeley, CO 80631
970-350-9755 rick.brady@greeley.gov.com

Rick Brady has served as Greeley City Attorney for 20 years. He has managed a Fortune 500 legal department, managed insurance defense work for a five-state region and worked as a management consultant at a national accounting firm. He currently serves as regional vice president for the International Municipal Lawyers Association, is past president of the Colorado Municipal League Attorney Association, the Metro City Attorneys’ Association and Weld County Bar Association. Rick has twice received the outstanding Colorado City Attorney award. He earned a B.S. in Business and his J.D. from the University of Colorado. Rick is a 5th generation Colorado native. He serves as executive director of the Cache la Poudre River National Heritage Area.

Robert W. Burchell, Rutgers University
Center for Urban Policy Research, New Brunswick, NJ 08901
732-932-3133 burchell@rci.rutgers.edu

Craig Call, Utah Land Use Institute
2424 N 4500 W, Plain City, UT 84404
801-859-2255 craig_call@comcast.net

Craig Call is an attorney and executive director of the Utah Land Use Institute. He was the Private Property Rights Ombudsman for the State of Utah from 1997-2007 where he assisted in the mediation and arbitration of several thousand land-related disputes. He has been a real estate broker, general contractor, attorney and served in the Utah Legislature and on the City Council in Provo. He authored The Utah Citizen’s Guide to Land Use Regulation (2005), the comprehensive Utah Law of Eminent Domain (2008), and jointly authored the Utah Land Use Regulation Guidebook and the Utah Impact Fee Handbook and Checklists in 2009. He has lectured widely on property rights and dispute resolution in the U.S., as well as in Canada and the Peoples Republic of China.
Paul Crabtree, Crabtree Group, Civil Engineers and Town Planners
325 D Street, Salida, CO  81201
7195391675  pcrabtree@crabtreegroup.net

Paul Crabtree, PE, is a New Urbanist Professional Civil Engineer with extensive experience in project management, town planning, form-based codes, watershed management, water and wastewater treatment plants, and construction management. He is president of Crabtree Group, Inc., a civil engineering and town planning firm dedicated to Smart Growth and New Urbanism with offices in Colorado and California. Among his many accomplishments and affiliations, he is a founding member of the Transect Codes Council, leader of the CNU Rainwater Initiative, author of the SmartCode “Regional Watersheds” Module (www.transect.org), author of “Rainwater Do’s and Don’ts” for Stormwater Magazine (www.stormh2o.com/) co-author of the soon-to-be-published Sustainable Communities Guidebook, and is a 2010 CNU Charter Award Winner for “Salon des Refuse” – a counter-proposal for a Low Impact Development Design Competition (www.cnu.org/node/3428).

David Crowe, National Association of Home Builders
1201 15th St NW, Washington, DC  20005
202-266-8383  dcrowe@nahb.org

David Crowe is Chief Economist and Senior Vice President at the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), where he is responsible for forecasting housing and economic trends, survey research and analysis of the home building industry and consumer preferences, as well as analysis of government policies that affect housing. Dr. Crowe is also responsible for the development and implementation of an innovative model of the local economic impact and fiscal cost of new home construction, which has estimated the net impact of new housing in over 500 local markets. Past research has concentrated on home ownership trends, tax issues, demographics, government mortgage insurance, local land use ordinance impacts and the impacts of housing on local economies. He has served on federal advisory committees to the Census Bureau and to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Susan Damour, General Services Administration
Denver Federal Center, Bldg 41, Room 234 (8A), Denver, CO  80225
303-236-8083  sue.damour@gsa.gov

Susan Damour began focusing on sustainability almost 20 years ago by carpooling. Now in her second term as Regional Administrator for General Services Administration (GSA), she works to promote the agency’s and region’s sustainability goals. Region 8’s Denver Federal Center is striving to be the greenest campus in the U.S. by 2020. Ms. Damour is currently working on bringing tribal winds in the region to federal agencies and has inspired a sustainability challenge between GSA, DOE/NREL, EPA and the city of Lakewood. In 2000, she co-led an effort to purchase wind for federal agencies to celebrate the 30th anniversary of Earth Day.

Orlando Delogu, University of Maine School of Law
246 Deering Ave., Portland, ME  04102
207-780-4368  delogu@usm.maine.edu

Orlando E. Delogu, Esq., a Professor of Law at the University of Maine School of Law, teaches property law, land use law, environmental law, water law, administrative law, and state and local government. He is the author of over 30 articles and books, including a current land use law casebook and, with Professor John Davidson, a two-volume treatise on federal environmental law. Professor Delogu has been a consultant to the National Water Commission and the Association for the Study of Peak Oil, a member of Maine’s Board of Environmental Protection, a Portland city councilor, and is presently a member of the City of Portland Planning Board.
Darin Dinsmore, Crowdbrite
PO Box 1803, Truckee, CA 96160
530-277-0196 Darin@crowdbrite.com

Darin Dinsmore is an innovative and award-winning urban planner and landscape architect. His mission is to transform communities, cities, and regions and inspire innovation in planning and sustainability. He has spearheaded efforts to create the first bi-state regional sustainability framework with local climate action plans, and master planned two pilot LEED-ND pilot projects. He offers over 15 years of experience in helping communities to increase their livability and prosperity, reduce their ecological footprint and improve human and ecological health. Mr. Dinsmore is the founder of Crowdbrite, an innovative program designed to improve civic engagement and assist cities in harnessing new technologies for Gov 2.0.

Ogden Driskill, Bear Lodge Cattle Company
P.O. Box 155, Devils Tower, WY 82714
307-680-5555 Driskill@rtconnect.net

Ogden Driskill is a sixth generation rancher from Devils Tower Wyoming where Mr. Driskill and his family own and operate the family ranch. His family was part of the roots of the modern cattle industry starting in Texas in the 1850s, trailing large herds north and ending ultimately in Wyoming in the 1870s. Mr. Driskill has ranched his entire life only leaving the ranch to attend college. He is presently a board member of the Land Trust Alliance and a State Senator representing the largest district in Wyoming.

Chris Duerksen, Clarion Associates
1108 Cypress Trace Drive, Melbourne, FL 32940
303-881-6066 cduerksen@clarionassociates.com

Chris Duerksen is Managing Director of Clarion Associates, LLC, a land use consulting firm with offices in Colorado, Florida, and North Carolina. He has represented public and private sector clients in a variety of land-use matters, and has drafted numerous development codes and plans. He specializes in sustainable development code revisions and is currently working on sustainable code projects in Salt Lake City, Tucson, Omaha, St. Louis County, Miami-Dade County, and Hamilton County (Cincinnati), Ohio. A co-founder of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute, he is currently working on the Institute’s Model Sustainable Development Code framework. Mr. Duerksen has authored many books and articles on land use issues, including Takings Law in Plain English, Nature-Friendly Communities, and True West.

Don Elliott, Clarion Associates
621 17th St. #2250, Denver, CO 80293
303-830-2890 deliott@clarionassociates.com

Donald L. Elliott, FAICP, is a Senior Consultant with Clarion Associates of Colorado, LLC, whose practice focuses on land planning and zoning, growth management, and international land and urban development issues. He is the author of A Better Way to Zone, co-author of The Citizen’s Guide to Planning and the editor of Colorado Land Planning and Development Law. Mr. Elliott has a bachelor’s degree in Urban Planning and Policy Analysis from Yale University, a law degree from Harvard Law School, and a master’s degree in City and Regional Planning from the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard. He is a past national Chairman of the Planning and Law Division of the American Planning Association and a past president of the Colorado Chapter of the American Planning Association.
Reid Ewing, University of Utah, College of Architecture and Planning
Salt Lake City, UT 84103
954-895-5128 ewing@arch.utah.edu

Reid Ewing, Ph.D., is a Professor of City and Metropolitan Planning at the University of Utah, associate editor of the Journal of the American Planning Association, columnist for Planning magazine, and Fellow of the Urban Land Institute. He holds master’s degrees in Engineering and City Planning from Harvard University, and a Ph.D. in Urban Planning and Transportation Systems from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His most recent books are Growing Cooler: The Evidence on Urban Development and Climate Change, written for the EPA and published by the Urban Land Institute; U.S. Traffic Calming Manual, co-published by the American Planning Association and American Society of Civil Engineers; and Pedestrian- and Transit-Oriented Design, for the American Planning Association.

Wayne Fawbush, Ford Foundation
320 East 43rd Street, New York, NY 10017
212-575-4918 w.fawbush@fordfound.org

Wayne Fawbush, a program officer with the Ford Foundation, is responsible for an initiative to develop economically sustainable opportunities for low-income and poor residents of rural America. He has served as a senior planner at Rural Development, USDA were he was responsible for the development of the northwest Timber Mitigation and Recovery Initiative. Mr. Fawbush also served as an elected representative and senator for 16 years in the Oregon Legislature, participating in the development of Oregon’s landmark land use planning system. Other experience includes developing a non-profit in Vermont that helped rural businesses build networks to gain access to better markets and owning and operating a small tree fruit and blueberry farm for 20 years. He holds a master’s degree from the University of Oregon.

Andrew Firestine, City of Centennial
13133 E Arapahoe Road, Centennial, CO 80016
303-754-3336 afirestine@centennialcolorado.com

Andrew Firestine is a senior planner for the City of Centennial, Colorado and a founder/principal of South Platte Economics and Planning, a socioeconomic and demographic research firm. He has led local and regional planning studies, as well as economic and demographic forecasts for Pikes Peak Area Council of Governments, Colorado Springs, and Montrose County. Mr. Firestine earned a bachelor’s degree in Business Economics, summa cum laude, from the University of San Diego, and a master’s of City and Regional Planning from California Polytechnic State University.

Joan Fitzgerald, Northeastern University, Law and Public Policy
Boston, MA 2115
617-373-3644 jo.fitzgerald@neu.edu

Joan Fitzgerald is professor and director of the graduate program in Law and Public Policy and a Senior Fellow at the Dukakis Center for Urban and Regional Policy at Northeastern University. Her third book, Emerald Cities: Urban Sustainability and Economic Development, examines how cities are creating economic development opportunities in green sectors. Her other books are Economic Revitalization: Strategies and Cases for City and Suburb and Moving Up in the New Economy. Fitzgerald has published numerous academic articles and frequently writes for the political monthly, The American Prospect. Her work has been supported by several foundations. She has conducted research for the Department of Labor, Massachusetts Technology Collaborative and other government agencies.
Brit Fontenot, City of Bozeman, Montana
P.O. Box 1230, Bozeman, MT 59771-1230
406-579-1302 bfontenot@bozeman.net

Brit Fontenot is the Economic Development Liaison for the City of Bozeman, Montana and is guiding the City’s Economic Development Council in the implementation of the goals and strategies of the recently adopted Economic Development Plan. Mr. Fontenot engages both the public and private sector to collectively offer solutions to many of the pressing economic issues, such as job creation, employment sector diversification and access to business-related information and resources. He previously served with the United Nations Compensation Commission, assisting in the processing of claims for environmental losses and damages suffered as a result of Iraq’s invasion and occupation of Kuwait. Mr. Fontenot holds a bachelor’s degree in Political Science from the University of Louisiana and a master’s degree in history from Montana State University.

Piper Foster, Community Office of Resource Efficiency
319 ABC Unit AB, Aspen, CO 81611
970-925-2521 piper@soprisfoundation.org

Piper Foster is the Energy Efficiency Czar of the Roaring Fork Valley, charged with weatherization and economizing resource use of homes in a three-county region. She completed a German Chancellor Fellowship in November 2010, after a year and a half in Berlin. Her research there focused on renewable energy finance and comparative European Union spatial planning policy for distributed generation. During her five-year tenure as director of the Aspen-based Sopris Foundation, Ms. Foster promoted innovative ideas to elected leadership of the Rockies, through conferences, films, lectures and published papers. Transportation, land-use planning, and locally produced energy compose Sopris Foundation’s areas of focus.

Robert H. Freilich, Freilich & Popowitz LLP
10580 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles California, CA 90024
310-729-3638 robertfreilich@gmail.com

Robert H. Freilich, of the national planning and law firm of Freilich & Popowitz LLP, is considered one of the leading planning, development, zoning and land use litigation attorneys. Dr. Freilich has developed and implemented land use plans and systems for over 150 cities, counties and states, including California and Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Nevada and Montana. He is the National Editor of The Urban Lawyer, Past-Chair of the Planning and Law Division of the APA, serves on the Board of RMLUI, and is the author of From Sprawl to Sustainability: Smart Growth, New Urbanism, Green Development and Renewable Energy.

Grady Gammage, Jr., Gammage & Burnham
Two North Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004
480-774-2900 ggammage@gblaw.com

Grady Gammage Jr is an academic, lawyer, author, and former elected official. As an academic at Arizona State University’s Morrison Institute, he focuses on urban growth and development, quality of life and economic issues. He teaches at the Colleges of Law and Architecture and Environmental Design. As a lawyer, he represents real estate projects from master planned communities to high rise buildings and urban mixed use redevelopment. He served on the CAP Board for 12 years and was President during a period when CAP was suing the Federal Government over costs. He wrote Phoenix in Perspective and many articles on land use and growth issues.
Rick Garcia, Department of Housing & Urban Development
1670 Broadway, Denver, CO 80202
303-672-5340  Rick.M.Garcia@hud.gov

Rick M. Garcia serves as Regional Administrator for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development’s (HUD) Region 8. In addition, he was designated as Senior Policy Advisor on Sustainability, and serves as the HUD liaison to the Denver Metropolitan’s Regional Air Quality Council. Mr. Garcia oversees the delivery of HUD’s homeownership, affordable housing, community development, fair housing, and Native American housing programs. Prior to joining HUD, Mr. Garcia was elected to the Denver City Council where he made economic revitalization, access to transit projects and business development his priorities. Mr. Garcia has been recognized by multiple public, civic and private organizations, including the Hispanic Contractors of Colorado and the Denver Hispanic Chamber of Commerce as Government/Community Advocate of the Year.

Joanne Garnett, Orion Planning Group
306 N. Main St., Sheridan, WY 82801
307-763-0570  joanne.garnett@gmail.com

Joanne Garnett, FAICP, is a partner of the Orion Planning Group (OPG) and principal of Jovi Plans. OPG provides urban and regional planning, transportation, and design consulting services, and Jovi Plans specializes in assisting local governments with their short term and targeted planning needs. Ms. Garnett has over 30 years of professional planning experience in the private and public sector throughout the Rocky Mountain West. Examples of work include county, city, and town land use or comprehensive plans; review and analyses of land use regulations for cities and counties; MPO corridor studies; and assistance to local government staff and elected officials.

Elizabeth Garvin, Clarion Associates
621 17th Street, Suite 2250, Denver, CO 80293
303-830-2890  egarvin@clarionassociates.com

Elizabeth Garvin, Senior Associate, is an attorney and planner in the Denver office of Clarion Associates with a focus on planning law, including plan implementation, regulatory drafting, and development finance. Prior to joining Clarion Associates, she served as the Director of the Community Planning Group in HNTB’s Kansas City office. Ms. Garvin has worked on a number of code update/revision projects including hybrid codes, created plans for redevelopment projects, prepared performance and design guidelines, organized and undertaken public participation processes, and assisted private clients in obtaining development approvals. Ms. Garvin has also served as counsel to the Kansas City, Missouri Tax Increment Financing Commission, and she is a frequent speaker at regional and national planning conferences.

Natalie Gochnour, Salt Lake Chamber
175 E. 400 St., Murray, UT 84111
801-328-5067  ngochnour@slchamber.com

Natalie Gochnour serves as an executive vice president for policy and communications and chief economist at the Salt Lake Chamber. In this role she oversees the public policies and communications of Utah’s largest and longest-serving business association and provides economic counsel to the Chamber’s more than 6,000 member businesses. In previous roles, Ms. Gochnour served as a Counselor to Secretary Mike Leavitt at the U.S. Department Health and Human Services and Associate Administrator of Public Affairs at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. She has also served as Governor Mike Leavitt’s Deputy for Policy and Communications. Prior to her work with the governor’s senior staff, Ms. Gochnour served as the Deputy Director and Chief Economist for the Utah Governor’s Office of Planning and Budget.
Matt Goebel, Clarion Associates
621 17th Street, Denver, CO 80293
303-830-2890 mgoebel@clarionassociates.com
Matthew Goebel, Partner and Vice President with the firm, is a planner and attorney in the Denver office of Clarion Associates. He works principally in the areas of planning and zoning, growth management, and historic preservation. His numerous projects have included development codes and growth management plans for a variety of large and small jurisdictions around the country. Mr. Goebel is co-author of Aesthetics, Community Character, and the Law, and also was principal author of a study of the regulatory barriers to affordable housing in Colorado, which won a statewide award from the Colorado chapter of the American Planning Association. He is a frequent speaker at national, regional, and state planning and historic preservation conferences.

Daniel Guimond, Economic & Planning Systems
730 17th Street, Denver, CO 80202
303-623-3557 dguimond@epsdenver.com
Daniel R. Guimond is a principal with Economic & Planning Systems, an urban economics firm with offices in Denver, Berkeley, and Sacramento. He is an economist and planner with over 30 years experience in market and financial analysis and development planning for the public and private sectors. Mr. Guimond has specialized in retail analysis, including over 25 downtown projects; market studies for department stores, discounters, and grocery store chains; citywide and district specific retail development strategies; and impact evaluations of new retail facilities on the existing retail locations. He has also focused on public private financial feasibility including tax increment financing, special districts, public improvement fees, and shareback agreements.

Katie Guthrie, APA Colorado
2106 Cameo Avenue, Loveland, CO 80538
970-667-2192 katie@apacolorado.org
Katie M. Guthrie, AICP, is an Administrator for the Colorado Chapter of the American Planning Association. Katie graduated cum laude from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona with a bachelor’s in Urban and Regional Planning and earned her master’s in Resource Conservation from the School of Forestry at the University of Montana. She has been a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners since 2003. For over ten years, Ms. Guthrie worked as a community planner in the public sector at local, county and regional levels. Her experience includes site design, development review and environmental compliance. Her current emphasis is on supporting and training professional planners, with a particular interest in reintegrating health outcomes and the public planning process.

Karen Hancock, City of Aurora
15151 E Alameda Pkwy, Aurora, CO 80012
303-739-7107 khancock@auroragov.org
Karen Hancock is the Environmental Program Supervisor for the City of Aurora Colorado. Ms. Hancock is a Certified Environmental Scientist with 20 years of experience in a wide variety of environmental projects. Her responsibilities for the city include managing the development of Aurora’s first Sustainability Plan and acting as the city’s sustainability coordinator.
Michael Harper, FAICP, Retired
550 W. Plumb Ln., Reno, NV 89509
775-825-1422 faicp04@aim.com

Mike Harper, FAICP, retired May 2009 after a 32-year career in local government planning. He has served in leadership positions with many professional organizations: APA, AICP, ASPA and WPR, Inc. For over 30 years, he has been involved with Lake Tahoe issues as chair of a regional planning commission, transportation district, NV State commission, and also as an alternate Tahoe Regional Planning Agency Governing Board member. Mr. Harper’s career as a trainer/teacher includes presenting at numerous conferences: RMLUI, Nevada APA, national APA, WPR, and USFS forums; and as faculty for the National Business Institute and University of Nevada, Reno. He has a bachelor's degree in history and a master's in public administration from the University of Nevada, Reno.

Benjamin Herman, Clarion Associates
401 Mason Court, Fort Collins, CO 80524
970-419-4740 bherman@clarionassociates.com

Ben Herman is a Principal in the Fort Collins office of Clarion Associates, and leads the firm’s nationwide planning practice. He has more than 30 years of national and international experience in all aspects of planning, and has been responsible for managing and conducting complex, multidisciplinary assignments for private and public sector clients. He specializes in complex, multi-disciplinary projects, and has extensive experience in community, regional, corridor, and downtown plans; sustainable community plans; regional growth management strategies; and sustainable community plans. Throughout his career, he has emphasized a commitment to excellence, innovation and creative thinking, and consensus building. Mr. Herman is a member of the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Heather Higinbotham, Yellowstone Business Partnership
PO Box 7337, Bozeman, Mt 59771
406-600-6617 heatherh@yellowstonebusiness.org

Heather Higinbotham is a lifelong Montana resident who was hired as the Sustainability Programs Manager by the Yellowstone Business Partnership in February 2008. She graduated from the University of Montana with a bachelor of science in Forestry and minors in Environmental Studies, Wilderness Studies, and German. She studied solar home design in California and German in Vienna, Austria. She received her master of Science degree from the University of Montana in 2003, in Environmental Studies, Alternative Energy and Sustainable Building. Heather is a LEED Accredited Professional and is a licensed Real Estate Agent in Montana, practicing conservation real estate. She and her family live in Bozeman, Montana.

Alex Hinds, Center for Sustainable Communities, SSU
PO Box 827, Inverness, CA 94937
415- 669-7230 alexhinds47@gmail.com

Alex Hinds directs Sonoma State University’s Center for Sustainable Communities, including their Sustainable Development and Climate Change and Green Building Certificate programs. He also works with “recycled” professionals and Environmental Studies and Planning faculty and students to assist local governments develop sustainable community strategies. Previously, Mr. Hinds directed community development agencies for Marin, San Luis Obispo, and Lake Counties, and was the principal architect behind Marin County’s general plan update that was the first local general plan in the nation to calculate its municipal ecological footprint and comprehensively address climate change. The plan and its related sustainability program received top national and state awards from the American Planning Association. Mr. Hinds was one of the founding members of Green Cities, California and a former Fulbright Scholar in Ecuador.
Abigail Holmquist, Denver Water
1600 W. 12th Ave., Denver, CO 80210
303-628-7010  abigail.holmquist@denverwater.org

Abigail Holmquist is a professional engineer with global experience in the water reuse industry. She has been working in the water industry for a decade, and first began working on water reuse projects in Australia in response to extended drought conditions. Ms. Holmquist currently manages the recycled water program for Denver Water, and her experience in water reuse issues ranges from technical solutions to public perception. She is the 2011 President for the Colorado section of the WateReuse Association and serves on the WateReuse Association's Education and Outreach Committee and Awards Committee.

Jim Holway, Sonoran Institute
11010 N. Tatum Blvd, Phoenix, AZ 85028
602-393-4310  jholway@sonoraninstitute.org

Jim Holway, Ph.D., AICP, directs Western Lands and Communities, the Sonoran Institute’s Joint Venture with the Lincoln Institute for Land Policy. This program focuses on managing growth, sustaining regions, protecting resources and empowering communities throughout the Intermountain West. Previously, he was Assistant Director of the Arizona Department of Water Resources and a Professor of Practice in the Global Institute of Sustainability at Arizona State University. Mr. Holway has a bachelor’s from Cornell University and a Ph.D. and master’s in Regional Planning from the University of North Carolina. He was recently elected to the Central Arizona Water Conservation District Board of Directors.

Robert Andrew Hough, Douglas County Community Planning and Sustainable Development
100 Third St. #220, Castle Rock, CO 80104
303-660-7460  ahough@douglas.co.us

Andy Hough is the Environmental Resources Coordinator for Douglas County Open Space and Natural Resources. His current duties include natural resources management, environmental compliance, liaison to other natural resource agencies, and agricultural policy. Previously, he held several positions in Douglas County Planning including Land Use Administrator and Environmental Sustainability Coordinator & Zoning Compliance Supervisor where he managed various functions including environmental review, large rural land use applications, zoning compliance and zoning regulation. Mr. Hough has a bachelor’s degree in Biology from the University of South Florida and has done graduate coursework in Public Policy at the University of Colorado, Denver.

John Inglish
Utah Transit Authority
3600 South 700 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84119
801-287-3220   jinglish@rideuta.com

John Inglish has worked in the transportation industry for more than 35 years and was appointed as the General Manager for the Utah Transit Authority in 1997. In May 2010, he was appointed Chief Executive Officer. Under his leadership, UTA has garnered national and worldwide recognition for its transportation systems. Mr. Inglish is internationally recognized for his transit expertise and his ability to make transit projects a reality. He also sits on the Board of Governors for the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce and has chaired many committees for the American Public Transportation Association, including a 3 year term on the Executive Board of Directors. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the University of Denver Intermodal Transportation Institute others.
Abby Janusz, Boulder County Land Use
PO Box 471, Boulder, CO 80306
720-564-2623 ajanusz@bouldercounty.org

Abby Shannon Janusz is a Senior Planner for Boulder County where she is slowly but surely rewriting the Boulder County Land Use Code. She has also been a Planner with the City of Aurora, Colorado, and the Pinellas Planning Council in Clearwater, Florida. Abby is the past Administrator for the Colorado Chapter of the American Planning Association. She has master’s degrees from the University of Colorado at Denver in Urban and Regional Planning and Public Administration and a bachelor’s degree in Environmental Studies from Eckerd College in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Jason Jordan, Advocacy Associates, LLC
1030 15th Street, NW Washington, DC 20005
202-349-1035 jjordan@advocacyassociates.com

Jason Jordan is a partner in the public policy firm Advocacy Associates, specializing in issue campaigns, legislative strategy, ballot measures and grassroots consulting. He leads the firm’s policy practice on transportation, community development and smart growth. Before joining Advocacy Associates, Mr. Jordan was director of policy for the American Planning Association. He continues to represent APA where he is responsible for policy and advocacy programs. Mr. Jordan worked for former United States Senator Max Cleland. He has managed field operations and consulted for congressional and statewide campaigns. He has worked for the Council for Urban Economic Development and the American Chamber of Commerce Executives on land use and development issues. He has degrees from American University and Emory University.

Doug Jorden, Jorden Bischoff & Hiser
7272 E. Indian School Road, Scottsdale, AZ 85251
480-505-3940 djorden@jordenbischoff.com

Douglas A. Jorden is with the Jorden Bischoff & Hiser law firm in Scottsdale, AZ. He is admitted to practice in Arizona, Arkansas, California and Colorado. His practice emphasizes land use, municipal, environmental, real estate and Indian Law. Mr. Jorden was a Zoning Hearing Officer for the City of Phoenix from 1996 to 2008 and is currently a Hearing Officer for Maricopa County. He has served as Chairman of the City of Phoenix Environmental Quality Commission and Chairman of the State Bar of Arizona’s Continuing Legal Education Committee. Mr. Jorden is the co-author of Arizona Land Use Law, published by the State Bar of Arizona.

Julian Juergensmeyer, Georgia State University
Box 4037, Atlanta, GA 30302
404-413-9197 jjuergensmeyer@gsu.edu

Julian Juergensmeyer is Professor and Ben F. Johnson Chair in Law and Director of the Center for the Comparative Study of Metropolitan Growth at Georgia State University. He is an adjunct professor in City and Regional Planning at the Georgia Institute of Technology, and Professor Emeritus at the University of Florida. Mr. Juergensmeyer is the co-author of Land Use Planning and Development Regulation Law.
Pat Kenney, National Park Service Denver Service Center
PO Box 25287, Denver, CO 80225
303-969-2674 pat_kenney@nps.gov

Pat Kenney, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, began his National Park Service career at Big Cypress National Preserve. He worked on numerous NPS projects, including planning efforts at Mount Rainier, Badlands, and Lake Mead. Mr. Kenney has served as a project manager on many high profile planning efforts in south Florida, including ecosystem restoration projects involving Big Cypress National Preserve and Everglades National Park. He currently is the Denver Service Center, Planning Chief and serves on the National Park Service Climate Change Response Steering Committee. He recently completed a temporary assignment as Superintendent at Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park.

Joshua Keown, Douglas County Colorado
100 3rd Street, Castle Rock, CO 80104
720-733-6927 jdkeown@gmail.com

Joshua Keown got his start in wildfire management working on engine, prescribed fire, and helicopter rappel crews. After receiving his master's in Forestry from Colorado State University, Mr. Keown worked as a Fuels Management Specialist for the Modoc National Forest in Northern California. Now at Douglas County, he fills several roles including community wildfire protection planning, defensible space inspections, and homeowner defensible space consultation. Additionally, he supports other county and national efforts including wildfire response drill planning, Douglas County’s National Fire Danger Rating System program, forest and vegetation management project design for county lands, prescribed fire support for local fire protection districts, and national deployment to interagency wildfires.

Jeremy Klop, Fehr & Peers
621 17th St. Ste. 2301, Denver, CO 80231
303-296-4300 j.klop@fehrandpeers.com

Jeremy Klop works to solve challenging transportation problems through application of his experience in multimodal transportation planning, modeling, and operations analysis projects. With this understanding of multimodal transportation planning and traffic operations, he serves clients working on complete streets policy and design, multimodal transportation planning in campus, medical, and downtown settings, transit operations and signal priority, corridor studies and livable street design, and smart growth modeling and forecasting. Mr. Klop has several publications, including a co-author role for the Bicycle and Pedestrian chapter in the ITE Transportation Planning Handbook (2009). He is a member of the American Planning Association, the Institute of Transportation Engineers, and currently serves as the Vice President of Communications for the Colorado APA.

Lawrence Kueter, Isaacson Rosenbaum P.C.
1001 17th Street, Denver, CO 80202
303-292-5656 lkueter@ir-law.com

Lawrence R. Kueter is a shareholder of Isaacson Rosenbaum P.C. in Denver, Colorado. Isaacson Rosenbaum has completed over 800 conservation transactions protecting almost 900,000 acres of land in the West. Mr. Kueter’s practice includes representing landowners, governmental entities, land trusts, and local and national conservation organizations, including the Colorado Coalition of Land Trusts and Colorado Cattlemen’s Agricultural Land Trust, in a variety of land conservation matters. He is presently on the Board of the Land Trust Alliance and is the Chair of the Land Trust Accreditation Commission.
James Lindberg, National Trust for Historic Preservation

535 16th Street, Denver, CO 80210
303-623-1504  james_lindberg@nthp.org

Jim Lindberg is the Director of Preservation Initiatives in the Mountains/Plains Office of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, located in Denver. A native of Iowa City, Iowa, Mr. Lindberg received his bachelor's degree in the Growth and Structure of Cities from Haverford College and his master's degree in Historic Preservation from the University of Vermont. Mr. Lindberg is the author of numerous articles on historic preservation and is a co-author of four books: Heritage-Based Rural Development: Principles, Strategies and Steps (National Trust for Historic Preservation, 2011, forthcoming), Rocky Mountain Rustic: Historic Buildings in the Rocky Mountain National Park Area (Rocky Mountain Nature Association, 2004), Protecting America’s Historic Neighborhoods: Taming the Teardown Trend (National Trust for Historic Preservation, 2002) and A Pictorial History of the University of Iowa (University of Iowa Press, 1988).

Neil Lindberg, Salt Lake City Council

451 S. State Street, Room 304, Salt Lake City, UT 84114
(801) 535-7600  neil.lindberg@slcgov.com

Neil Lindberg is an attorney and city planner. For 37 years, he has helped local governments address diverse land use matters such as growth management, development agreements, impact fees, takings, transferable development rights, and regulation of group homes and sexually-oriented businesses. He presently serves as attorney for the Salt Lake City Council and for 14 years was Municipal Council Attorney for Provo, Utah. He previously practiced land use law at Linowes and Blocher, a Maryland firm located in the Washington, D.C. area. Mr. Lindberg is a member of the bar in Utah, Maryland and Washington, D.C., and is past president of the Utah Chapter of the American Planning Association. He also has a master of Public Administration degree.

Huiliang Liu, City of Aurora Planning Dept

15151 E. Alameda Pkwy, Ste. 2300 Aurora, CO 80012
303-739-7250  hliu@auroragov.org

Huiliang Liu has been a professional planner for 20 years. He is a Principal Transportation Planner with Aurora Planning Department, Colorado. He managed several complex planning projects, including Aurora Strategic Parking Plan and Program Study, Fitzsimons Multi-modal Transportation Study and Aurora Urban Street Standards study. He is currently working on the implementation of pedestrian level of service standards in urban centers and transit oriented developments. Mr. Liu has also been extensively involved in the I-225 corridor LRT planning and station area planning efforts. He holds a bachelor's degree in Architecture from Tsinghua University, Beijing, China, a master’s degree in Urban and Regional Planning, University of Iowa, Urban and Regional Planning program.
Adam Lovelady, McGuire Woods, LLP
One James Center, Richmond, VA  23219
804.775.1181  alovelady@mcguirewoods.com

Adam Lovelady assists public, private, and nonprofit clients with a wide range of land use, environmental, and transactional matters, including issues of sustainability and green building. Drawing on his background in urban and environmental planning, Adam aids local governments in the calibration, adoption, and implementation of form-based codes. He also helps private clients with the full range of traditional, transit-oriented, and sustainable development. Adam is a LEED® Accredited Professional and advises clients on green building practices and green products. Additionally, he supports clients in the transition to renewable energy sources, including local zoning compliance and state and federal permitting. Adam received his J.D. and Masters in Urban and Environmental Planning from the University of Virginia. Prior to joining McGuireWoods, Adam gained experience as a teacher with Teach for America, a historic preservation consultant, and a researcher for the Southern Environmental Law Center’s Land and Community Program.

Tom Low, DPZCharlotte
119 Huntley Place, Charlotte, NC  28207
704-948-8141  tom@dpz.com

Thomas Low, AIA, AICP, LEED, CNU, is the Director of DPZ Charlotte and Chair of the Charlotte Region Civic by Design Forum. Mr. Low’s expertise includes town planning, history of planning, sustainability, urbanism, transit-oriented communities, traditional neighborhood development, suburban retrofit, form-based codes, and school design. He published several academic papers, numerous articles, and books including the Light Imprint Handbook: Integrating Sustainability and Community Design, Civic by Design: John Nolen’s Lessons for New Urbanism, and the Light Imprinters Almanac: Engaging Growers and Dwellers. His initiatives include Light Imprint (www.lightimprint.org), Learning Cottage (www.learningcottages.com), Slow Food and Slow Urbanism (www.terrain.org) and Civic by Design (www.civicbydesign.com).

Thomas Macdonald, Otten Johnson Robinson Neff + Ragonetti PC
950 17th Street, Denver, CO  80202
303-575-7520  mac@ottenjohnson.com

J. Thomas Macdonald is a shareholder and director of his firm. He represents both local governments and developers in land use and constitutional litigation, and has had the opportunity to participate in a number of high profile cases involving impact and other fees, inverse condemnation and other land use matters. He has taught at numerous continuing legal education programs on land use issues and recently authored the chapter on Colorado law for the book Development Impact Fees in the Rocky Mountain Region, Second Edition, published by the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute. Chambers USA recently ranked him as one of the top land use lawyers in Colorado.
Peter Mayer, Aquacraft
2709 Pine St., Boulder, CO 80302
303-786-9691 mayer@aquacraft.com

Peter Mayer is a professional engineer who has dedicated his career to advancing the science of water efficiency and demand management. His work has focused on studying urban water use patterns and determining the impacts of water conservation measures and programs. He was the lead author for the American Water Works Association Research Foundation “Residential End Uses of Water” study and a key contributor to the companion “Commercial and Institutional End Uses of Water” study. Mr. Mayer has authored a guidebook of best practices for municipal water conservation in Colorado, prepared the conservation section of the 2010 Colorado State Water Supply Initiative, studied the impacts of weather-based “smart” irrigation controllers, water budget-based rate structures, submetering and third party billing programs in multi-family housing, and he has helped develop the US EPA’s WaterSense program.

Jim Mazzoco, AICP, City of Tucson Planning and Development Services Department
201 N. Stone Avenue 2nd fl, Tucson, AZ 85701
520-837-6964 jim.mazzocco@tucsonaz.gov

Jim Mazzoco graduated from the University of Arizona with a master’s in Urban Planning. He was the Pima County Planning Official for 13 years, and served as the president of the Arizona County Planning Directors Association for two years. Mr. Mazzoco has served as the Development Services Administrator at the Town of Marana, Arizona for two years. He currently works as the planning administrator for the City of Tucson, and for the past five years has focused on infill and sustainable policy development.

Dwight Merriam, FAICP, Robinson & Cole LLP
280 Trumbull Street, Hartford, CT 06103
860-275-8228 dmerriam@rc.com

Dwight H. Merriam, FAICP, founded Robinson & Cole’s Land Use Group in 1978. He is the Past President of the American Institute of Certified Planners, Chair of the American Bar Association’s Section of State and Local Government Law, and a member of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute National Advisory Board. In his practice, he represents developers, local governments, landowners and advocacy groups in land development and conservation issues. He has published over 200 professional articles and six books on land use law, including Inclusionary Zoning Moves Downtown, The Takes Issue, The Complete Guide to Zoning, and Eminent Domain Use and Abuse: Kelo in Context.

Todd Messenger, Kendig Keast Collaborative
6860 S. Yosemite Ct., Ste. 2000, Centennial, CO 80112
303-577-7466 todd@kendigkeast.com

Todd Messenger is the Code Practice Leader for Kendig Keast Collaborative (KKC), a national planning and plan implementation firm. Before opening KKC’s Centennial, Colorado office, Mr. Messenger was a land planning consultant and land use attorney in Boca Raton, Florida. His interest about how places “work” is broad and deep, and he has taught a variety of continuing education courses, including community design principles, sustainability regulations, land use law, and the relationship between local revenue structures and land use. Mr. Messenger earned an M.P.A. with a specialization in growth management from Florida Atlantic University and a J.D. from the University of Florida.
John Miki, Opticos Design, Inc.
1285 Gilman Street, Berkeley, CA 94706
510-558-6957  john.miki@opticosdesign.com

John Miki joined Opticos Design, Inc. in 2006, and has actively contributed to a variety of planning and urban design projects, including the architectural design guidelines, form-based codes and extensive master planning and revitalization endeavors for existing communities. He has played a positive role in the successful completion of many projects, including a series of Master Plans for Central Valley small towns, the Land Development Code Update for Livermore, California, the Paso Robles Downtown and Uptown Specific Plan in Paso Robles, California, and the Richmond Design Guidelines for Heritage Homes in Richmond, California. Mr. Miki is currently working on a code update for the city Flagstaff, Arizona and a Multi-Jurisdictional Form-Based Code for Beaufort County, South Carolina.

Roger Millar, Smart Growth America
1707 L Street NW, Suite 1050, Washington, DC 20036
406-544-1963  rmillar@smartgrowthamerica.org

Roger Millar is the Director of Smart Growth America’s Leadership Institute (www.smartgrowthamerica.org). His 30-year career has includes recent service in rural/small town America as Community Development Director for McCall, Idaho and City-County Planning Director for Missoula, Montana. Projects in which he played a leadership role, particularly the Portland Streetcar and Portland’s Pearl District, are seen as national models for urban livability. He has also managed or participated in signature projects for rural, resort and National Park gateway communities throughout the American West. Smart Growth America is the only national organization dedicated to researching, advocating for and leading coalitions to bring smart growth practices to more communities nationwide.

Anita Miller, Anita P. Miller Attorney at Law, LLC
2020 Quail Run Drive, NE Albuquerque, NM 87122
505-856-6406  Milleranit@aol.com

Anita P. Miller is a practicing land use attorney in Albuquerque, New Mexico who represents municipalities and counties on land use, subdivision growth management and environmental matters. She is a member of the Regional Board of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute and an adjunct professor of Land Use Law at the University of New Mexico School of Architecture and Planning and the School of Law. She is actively involved the American Bar Association Commission on Women in the Profession, chairs an annual Land Use Law seminar for CLE International. She is also a frequent chair and faculty member at national, regional and local CLE seminars related to land use and historic preservation law. She is the author of Grassroots Historic Preservation Law, a publication of the New Mexico Historic Preservation Division.

Jocelyn Mills, Town of Frisco
PO Box 4100, Frisco, CO 80443
970-668-9130  jocelyn@townoffrisco.com

Jocelyn Mills serves as the Project Resource Manager in the Community Development Department for the Town of Frisco. She is responsible for coordinating the Town’s planning and development functions, including the Peak One Master Planning process. She holds master’s degrees in Environmental Policy and Management, and Applied Communications from the University of Denver and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners.
Molly Mowery, National Fire Protection Association
1 Battery March Park, Quincy, MA 02169
617-984-7458 mmowery@nfpa.org

Molly Mowery is the Associate Project Manager in the Wildland Fire Operations Division at the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA). She is involved with the Firewise Communities/USA program and many other wide-ranging NFPA initiatives to protect people and property at risk to wildfire. Prior to joining NFPA, Ms. Mowery worked as a natural hazards planner in Florida, where she assisted government agencies with wildfire mitigation and post-disaster redevelopment plans. Her background in land use planning and environmental issues includes sustainable development policy development for the Scottish Government. She holds a bachelor of arts from Naropa University and a master’s in City Planning degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Arthur C. Nelson, University of Utah
Metropolitan Research Center, Salt Lake City, UT 84112
801-581-8253 acnelson@utah.edu

Dr. Arthur C. Nelson, FAICP, is Presidential Professor of City & Metropolitan Planning at the University of Utah where he is also Director of the Metropolitan Research Center, Adjunct Professor of Finance, and Director of the Master of Real Estate Development program. For the past thirty years, Dr. Nelson has conducted pioneering research in growth management, urban containment, public facility finance, economic development, and metropolitan development patterns. He has written more than 20 books and more than 300 other works that have shaped the fields of infrastructure finance, growth management, and land use planning, winning national awards and international distinction. Dr. Nelson’s current work focuses on how demographic economic forces along with shifts in housing preference will reshape America’s metropolitan areas for the rest of this century.

Paul Newton, The TSR Group Inc.
810 Brickyard Circle Suite 4, Golden, CO 80403
303-458-8554 pnewton@thetsrgroup.com

With a strong design background and knowledge of technology, Mr. Newton is integral to the development and use of new tools that promote better design, planning, and analysis of environments and information. Paul has ten plus years of experience managing GIS, Internet, desktop, system integration, and multi-media projects for planning, transportation, and engineering.

Tricia Nilsson, City of Boise, Idaho
150 N. Capitol Boulevard, Boise, ID 83701
208-384-3842 pnilsson@cityofboise.org

Patricia Nilsson has been a public sector planner in Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Idaho for more than 25 years. She has extensive experience in long-range planning, and has been a project manager for comprehensive plans, a multi-million dollar open space program, and transportation plans. As the Manager of Comprehensive Planning for the City of Boise, she is currently updating the comprehensive plan and zoning ordinance. She is a member of the 2005 Leadership Boise class, the past president of the Idaho chapter of the American Planning Association and a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners. Ms. Nilsson received a bachelor’s in Political Science from Virginia Tech.
Wendy Ninteman, Land Trust Alliance
257 W. Front St., Missoula, MT 59802
406-549-2750  wninteman@lta.org

Wendy Ninteman became the Land Trust Alliance’s Western Program Director in 2008, and is responsible for guiding the development and delivery of the Alliance’s conservation programs and services to Western land trusts in 14 states. Prior to joining the Alliance, Ms. Ninteman served as executive director of Five Valleys Land Trust (FVLT) in Montana for ten years. During her tenure at FVLT, she worked with state and local partners on significant public land acquisitions, led a successful campaign to pass a $10 million local bond measure for conservation, and was a founding member of both the Heart of the Rockies Initiative and the Montana Association of Land Trusts.

John Nolon, Land Use Law Center Pace Law School
78 North Broadway, White Plains, NY 10603
914-422-4090  jnolon@law.pace.edu

John Nolon is the James D. Hopkins Professor of Law at Pace University School of Law, teaching in the fields of property, land use, real estate, and environmental law. He is also Director of Pace’s Kheel Center on the Resolution of Environmental Interest Disputes. He has served as a consultant to both President Carter’s Council on Development Choices in the 1980s and President Clinton’s Council on Sustainable Development. Most recently, Professor Nolon received the American Planning Association’s (APA) 2009 National Planning Leadership Award for a Planning Advocate Professor Nolon’s writings include over a dozen law review articles and a number of books published by the West Group, the Environmental Law Institute, Cambridge University Press, and McGraw Hill.

David O’Neil, Brynn Grey Partners, Ltd.
777 Pearl Street, Suite 200, Boulder, CO 80302
303-443-5600  david@poplarhouse.com

David O’Neil is the developer of the Peak One Neighborhood, a public/private partnership in Frisco, Colorado. Mr. O’Neil is also the developer of the Wellington Neighborhood in Breckenridge, Colorado, a public/private partnership with the Town and the Environmental Protection Agency. Wellington was a case study in the Urban Land Institute’s “Ten Principles for Successful Public/Private Partnerships.” Mr. O’Neil attended the University of Denver (bachelor of arts; Juris Doctor) and the University of Colorado (master’s of Public Administration, Human Resource Management and Systems). He has been on numerous panels and he has served as a studio juror, Harvard Graduate School of Design.

Jeff Parker, Hayes, Phillips, Hoffmann & Carberry, PC
1530 16th Street, Denver, CO 80202
303-825-6444  jhparker@hphclaw.com

Jeff Parker is a member of the law firm of Hayes, Phillips, Hoffmann & Carberry, PC. He graduated from the University of Colorado School of Law in 1995, and currently advises clients in the fields of land use, urban renewal, employment, legislation, and general business transactions. Mr. Parker serves as City Attorney for the Cities of Manitou Springs and Victor, and as Town Attorney for the Towns of Buena Vista and Calhan.
Julia Parzen, Urban Sustainability Directors Network
5710 S Dorchester, Chicago, IL  60637
773-288-3596 juliaparzen@ameritech.net

Julia Parzen is the founding Coordinator of the Urban Sustainability Directors Network, a two-year old network of 90 North American municipal sustainability leaders. Two years ago she served as external project manager for the Chicago Climate Action Plan process. Prior to 16 years in consulting, Ms. Parzen was a program officer for conservation and economic development (The Joyce Foundation); a triple bottom line entrepreneur (co-founder and Chief Executive Officer, Working Assets Money Fund); and a leader in renewable energy financing (State of California) and federal environmental financing programs (U.S. EPA). She is author of numerous publications on community development banking, self-employment, transit-oriented development financing, green chemistry and economic development, and other subjects.

Daniel Pava, Los Alamos National Laboratory
ENV-ES MS J978, Los Alamos, NM  87545
505-667-7360 dpava@lanl.gov

Daniel Pava, AICP, works at the Los Alamos National Laboratory where he is an environmental planner in the Environmental Stewardship Group. He currently focuses on compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act and has prepared two site comprehensive plans for the Laboratory. Mr. Pava began his planning career with the city of Albuquerque, New Mexico while still a graduate student at the University of New Mexico, where he earned master’s degrees in Community and Regional Planning and in Public Administration. He later served as a planner in Los Alamos County and Rio Rancho (New Mexico) and near Portland, Oregon. Mr. Pava has served as the president of the New Mexico Chapter of the American Planning Association three times and currently sits on the board of Western Planning Resources.

Mary Kay Peck, MKPeck Associates
1601 Sand Key Estates Court, Clearwater, FL  33767
702-354-2671 mkpeckassociates@gmail.com

Mary Kay Peck, FAICP, founding principal of MKPeck Associates, specializes in performance improvement, development service center formation and organizational sustainability. Ms. Peck builds on experience as a city manager, assistant city manager and planning director. Her efforts have resulted in national recognition for performance improvement, customer service, organizational excellence and development service center operation. As president of the American Planning Association, Peck led the organization’s first communication plan and membership growth strategy. She has presented nationally and internationally on leadership, management and planning. Peck has managed award winning projects, including the Southern Nevada Regional Plan, the Downtown Henderson Investment Strategy, the Henderson Visual Interactive Code, and the Springhill, Montana Community Plan.

Michael Penny, Town of Frisco
PO Box 4100, Frisco, CO  80443
970-668-5276 michaelp@townoffrisco.com

Michael Penny has served as the Town Manager for the Town of Frisco since 2004, and prior to this he served as the city administrator for the City of Ouray, Colorado. He is the Chair of the I-70 Corridor Coalition, and was elected and serves on the Colorado Municipal League’s Executive Board, Colorado City/County Management Association’s Executive Board, and the Executive Board of Directors for the Colorado Association of Ski Towns. Mr. Penny was awarded the 2009 Colorado Manager of the Year Award from the Colorado City and County Management Association. He holds a bachelor’s in Criminal Justice from California State University, an MPA from the University of Colorado, and in 2008 attended the John F. Kennedy School of Government Executive Education at Harvard University.
Chuck Perry, Perry Rose LLC
1585 California St, Denver, CO 80202
303-446-0600 chuck@perry-rose.com

Chuck Perry, founder of Perry Rose, has extensive experience in community-based master planning and mixed-use, mixed-income infill real estate development. Mr. Perry led the development of the award winning Highlands’ Garden Village from concept, entitlements, and financing through design, and construction management. Currently, Mr. Perry is involved in the development and site planning work on “Aria,” the redevelopment of a 25-acre campus in North Denver, and on the Carbondale Elementary School Neighborhood Development, the redevelopment of a school site into affordable housing. Prior to founding Perry Rose, Mr. Perry served as the Assistant Executive Director of the Denver Urban Renewal Authority (DURA). He holds a Ph.D. in Urban and Regional Planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a specialization in citizen participation, land use and environmental planning.

Peter Pollock, Lincoln Institute of Land Policy
956 Grant Place, Boulder, CO 80302
303-253-2569 ppollock@lincolninst.edu

Peter Pollock, FAICP, is the Ronald Smith Fellow at the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy, where he manages projects with the Sonoran Institute and the Center for Natural Resources and Environmental Policy at the University of Montana. He worked for almost 25 years for the City of Boulder, Colorado in the city’s Planning Department. Mr. Pollock was a Loeb Fellow at the Harvard Graduate School of Design and a visiting fellow at the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy. He began his career as with the National Renewable Energy Lab in Golden, Colorado where he specialized in solar access protection, energy-conserving land use planning, and outreach to local communities. He received his master’s in Landscape Architecture at University of California, Berkeley and a bachelor’s in Environmental Planning at UC Santa Cruz.

Josh Radoff, YRG sustainability
1821 Blake Street, Denver, CO 80202
720-883-3153 jradoff@yrgsustainability.com

Josh is co-founder and Principal of YRG sustainability. He has a background in sustainable energy engineering and works at intersection of the energy, climate, green building, and corporate strategy. He provides project oversight, strategic direction, and technical guidance for YRG’s clients, and teaches regular workshops and writes on a range of sustainability topics. Mr. Radoff was one of the founding directors of GreenHomeNYC, a resource and advocacy group for green building in New York City, and is a former board member of the Colorado Chapter of the USGBC. He holds master’s degrees in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering from the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm and Columbia University in New York.

Thomas J. Ragonetti, Otten Johnson Robinson Neff + Ragonetti PC
950 17th Street, Denver, CO 80202
303-575-7509 tjr@ottenjohnson.com

Thomas J. Ragonetti is a senior shareholder and director of Otten Johnson Robinson Neff + Ragonetti, PC, a leading law firm in Denver, where he specializes in land use, government regulation, urban and real estate development and construction law. He represents private and public sector clients in matters involving complex governmental approvals and large scale development and construction. He has degrees in law from Harvard Law School and in City Planning from Cornell University. He is an adjunct professor in the School of Architecture and Planning, University of Colorado at Denver and in the University of Denver College of Law. He is President of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute and has served on the Colorado Land Use Commission and The Colorado Blue Ribbon Panel on Housing.
Ray Rasker, Headwaters Economics
810 N. Wallace, Suite D, Bozeman, MT 59715
406-570-7044  ray@headwaterseconomics.org

Ray Rasker is the Executive Director of Headwaters Economics, an independent, nonprofit research group, whose mission is to improve community development and land management decisions in the West. Their partners include rural communities, state legislatures, the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management, academic institutions and non-profit organizations. Mr. Rasker has written extensively on rural development and the role of environmental quality in economic prosperity, and is well known in policy circles in the U.S. and Canada. He has a Ph.D. from the College of Forestry (economics) at Oregon State University, a master’s of Agriculture from Colorado State University, and a bachelor’s of Science in Wildlife Biology from the University of Washington. Mr. Rasker also holds an affiliate position at Montana State University in the Department of Ecology.

Mark Reid, Sheridan County
224 S. Main Street, Sheridan, WY 82801
307-675-2420  mreid@sheridancounty.com

Mark Reid has been the Sheridan County Planner since January 2007. He received a bachelor’s degree in Geography at University of Colorado, Boulder, and has spent his entire professional planning career working in the Intermountain West, including Washakie, Laramie and Sheridan Counties in Wyoming, and Pocatello, Idaho. During the housing boom of the 1990s, his attention turned to private land development and construction in Wyoming. He served on the Wyoming Planning Association board of directors for eight years, including the offices of President and Vice President. He is currently a designated Senior Advisor to the University of Wyoming, Ruckelshaus Institute of Environment & Natural Resources.

Paul Rice, City of Lakewood
Civic Center North, Lakewood, CO 80226
303-987-7725  pauric@lakewood.org

Paul Rice is a Principal Planner with the City of Lakewood, Colorado. Mr. Rice has 13 years of planning experience in Colorado, Indiana, and Washington State. He has worked on a diverse array of projects including annexations, comprehensive plan amendments, rezonings, and site development plans. He currently serves as the Lakewood representative to the Belmar Architectural Control Committee and is the project lead for the Lakewood Zoning Improvement process. Mr. Rice holds a master’s degree in Regional Planning from Washington State University and a bachelor’s degree in Environmental Sciences from Ball State University. He is a member of the American Planning Association’s National and Colorado chapters, and he is a certified planner with the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Craig Richardson, Clarion Associates
128 Graylyn Drive, Chapel Hill, NC 27516
919-967-9188  crichardson@clarionassociates.com

Craig Richardson is a planner, lawyer, and Vice President of Clarion. He has consulted with over 100 local government clients in a number of states on the preparation of development codes, growth strategies, APF regulations, and impact fees. He serves on the faculty for America Planning Association’s national Zoning Clinic. He is currently working with Opticos Design in preparation of a jurisdiction-wide form-base code for Beaufort County, South Carolina. Mr. Richardson has been actively involved in preparation of the housing diversity, affordable housing, and hazard mitigation components of the RMLUI model code framework.
Sarah Rockwell, Kaplan Kirsch & Rockwell LLP
1675 Broadway, Suite 2300, Denver, CO 80202
303-825-7000 srockwell@kaplankirsch.com
Sarah Rockwell is a partner in the law firm of Kaplan Kirsch & Rockwell LLP. Her practice emphasizes land use, municipal law and public sector negotiations. Having practiced in Colorado and California, Ms. Rockwell has represented both public and private sector clients in land use, environmental and municipal law issues associated with complex, large-scale development projects, including airports and residential, industrial and commercial development projects.

Tom Romero, University of Denver Sturm College of Law
2255 E. Evans Ave., Denver, CO 80208
303-871-7784 tromero@law.du.edu
Tom Romero teaches and researches in the areas of the legal history of the American West, Latinos and the law, school desegregation in multiracial contexts, property, land use, water law, and urban development and local government in the United States. His work on such topics has appeared in the Colorado Law Review, the Utah Law Review, the New Mexico Law Review, the Albany Law Review, the Journal of Gender, Race, and Justice, the Temple Political and Civil Rights Law Review, the Seattle Journal for Social Justice, the Oregon Review of International Law, and the Chicano-Latino Law Review, among others. Currently, Dr. Romero is revising a book manuscript on racial formation, civil rights, and land use in post-World War II Denver, Colorado.

Hannah Sanger, City of Pocatello
911 N. 7th Ave, Pocatello, ID 83201
208-705-6360 hsanger@pocatello.us
Hannah Sanger works for the City of Pocatello, Idaho as their Environmental Educator. In this capacity she works with Planning & Development and Public Works staff on sustainable development issues. This includes leading the City’s effort to be certified as a sustainable city with the Yellowstone Business Partnership’s Framework for Sustainable Development. Ms. Sanger also focuses on storm water education, working to increase the implementation of storm water best management practices by City staff and local residents and businesses. She holds master’s degrees in Environmental Education and Curriculum Development from the University of Michigan, and a bachelor’s degree in Neuroscience from Colgate University.

William Shutkin, Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute
2255 East Evans Avenue, Room 404, Denver, CO 80208
303-406-1743 williamshutkin@gmail.com
William Shutkin is a global leader in sustainability and social entrepreneurship, and is the Executive Director of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute and a Lecturer at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law, where the Institute is based. He is also a Visiting Scholar at the Renewable and Sustainable Energy Institute at the University of Colorado Boulder and a founding Partner of Urban Sustainability Associates.
Peter Stein, The Lyme Timber Company
23 South Main Street, Hanover, NH 03755
603-643-3300  peterstein@lymetimber.com

Peter Stein joined The Lyme Timber Company in 1990, and as managing director provides leadership in the development and structuring of conservation-oriented forestland purchases and dispositions. He also manages the Company’s conservation advisory arm. Prior to joining Lyme, Mr. Stein was Senior Vice President of the Trust for Public Land where he directed their conservation real estate acquisitions in the Northeast and Midwest. He is a member of the Board of Advisors of the Appalachian Mountain Club and serves on the Boards of Island Press and the Hubbard Brook Research Foundation. Peter earned a bachelor’s degree with Highest Honors from the University of California at Santa Cruz and was a Loeb Fellow and received a Certificate in Advanced Environmental Studies from Harvard University.

Patti Steinholtz, David Evans and Associates
1331 17th Street, Suite 900, Denver, CO 80202
720-225-4673  pjst@deainc.com

Patti Steinholtz has several years of experience identifying and analyzing environmental impacts, particularly in compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). She has been involved in various aspects of the NEPA process, including development of environmental assessments and environmental impact statements. She has written environmental fatal flaw analyses for wind energy development projects, focusing on environmental constraints that could preclude project development. Ms. Steinholtz has a master’s of Applied Science in Environmental Policy and Management with an emphasis on Natural Resource Management from the University of Denver. She is a member of Women in Sustainable Energy, the Rocky Mountain Association of Environmental Professionals, and the Colorado Renewable Energy Society.

Anna Trentadue, Valley Advocates for Responsible Development
PO Box 1164, Driggs, ID 83422
208-354-1707  anna@tetonvalleyadvocates.org

Anna Trentadue is leading the reshaping development patterns effort in Teton County, Idaho for the nonprofit organization, Valley Advocates for Responsible Development (VARD). She is also researching and writing the working paper on state level enabling authority and case law on development entitlements. Ms. Trentadue earned a bachelor’s degree in Biology with a French minor from the Colorado College in 2000, and her Juris Doctor from the University of San Francisco in 2006. She specialized in land use and water law, interned with the Attorney General’s Energy Task Force, and worked at a private water law practice prior to joining VARD in 2007.

Bryan Treu, Eagle County Government
PO Box 850, Eagle, CO 81631
970-328-8685  bryan.treu@eaglecounty.us

Bryan R. Treu is a magna cum laude graduate of Pepperdine University, and a 1996 graduate of the University of Colorado School of Law. Mr. Treu has represented Eagle County since 2001, and was appointed the County Attorney in 2005. Prior to joining Eagle County, he was an Assistant County Attorney for Larimer County and has spent the majority of his legal career representing public entities, including counties, municipalities, school districts, and special districts. Mr. Treu currently sits on the executive board of the Colorado County Attorneys Association.
Bill Van Meter, Regional Transportation District
1560 Broadway, Denver, CO 80202
303-299-2448 bill.vanmeter@rtd-fastracks.com

Bill Van Meter is the Assistant General Manager, Planning for the Denver Regional Transportation District (RTD). He has 22 years’ experience in the transportation planning field, with extensive experience in public transit and surface transportation planning, managing multi-modal transportation studies, and Federal Transit Administration funding processes for rapid transit corridor implementation. RTD’s planning group led the planning for the FasTracks program and is leading RTD’s continuing planning and land-use/TOD efforts. Mr. Van Meter has been a planner with RTD since 1991. He holds bachelor’s and master’s degrees in Economic Geography from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Ekaterini Vlahos, University of Colorado Denver
2476 South Jasmine Place, Denver, CO 80222
303-556-6502 kat.vlahos@ucdenver.edu

Ekaterini “Kat” Vlahos is the Director of the Center of Preservation Research (CoPR). She is a licensed architect and an Associate Professor of Architecture at the University of Colorado Denver. She is active in documentation, analysis and preservation of rural cultural landscapes—primarily historic ranches. She is currently a Board Member of the Four Mile Historic Park and the Schweiger Ranch Foundation. Both in professional practice and in the academy she has worked on design, documentation and planning of changing rural landscapes in the American West. Her work and research explore the study of documentation methods and technologies as they can be applied to heritage conservation. A native Coloradan, her insight to rural cultural landscapes is influenced by family ties to ranching in northwestern Colorado.

Kent Watkins, TOD Associates
4940 Sentinel Dr., Bethesda, MD 20816
646-234-3545 kent.watkins@yahoo.com

Kent Watkins is the CEO of TOD Associates. He has over 40 years of experience with TOD and general land use development, and has taught transportation planning and affordable housing finance. He was the Director of the Joint Center for Urban Affairs at Florida International University and the Associate Director of Harvard's Center for Press, Politics, and Public Policy. Mr. Watkins has worked on numerous TOD, town planning, economic development and low-income housing projects. He is currently a member of the National Housing Conference's Working Group on transportation and housing, and helped plan the recent National TOD Symposium in Denver. He frequently participates in international conferences and exchanges through HUD, World Bank, and UN agencies. He founded the National and International Academy of Housing and Sustainable Communities and has authored over 150 books, reports, articles, and other written materials.

Monty Wedel, Riley County Planning & Development
110 Courthouse Plaza, Manhattan, KS 66502
785-537-6332 mwedel@rileycountyks.gov

Monty R. Wedel, AICP, is the Director of Planning & Development for Riley County, Kansas, and has served in that capacity since 1984. He has been involved in a variety of projects over that time span, including numerous comprehensive plans, strategic plans, specialized plans, building projects, grant-writing/administration, program development and regulation writing. He received his master’s degree in Regional and Community Planning from Kansas State University.
Carolynne White, Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP
410 17th St., Denver, CO, 80202
303-223-1197 cwhite@bhfs.com

Carolynne White is based in the Denver office of Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, and is a shareholder whose practice spans the firm’s Land Use, Government Relations, Real Estate and Natural Resources groups. Ms. White holds master's degrees in Regional and Urban Planning, and Public Policy, as well as law. She is also a LEED Accredited Professional and a frequent speaker on green building and sustainability policy issues. Her practice focuses on the zoning and entitlement process, with an emphasis on complex projects involving redevelopment, infill, brownfields, urban renewal, eminent domain, mixed use, transit-oriented development, public improvement fees and other public financing tools, and special challenges such as historic preservation.

Alvin Wiederspahn, Alvin Wiederspahn JD, PC
2015 Central Avenue, #200, Cheyenne, WY 82001
307-638-6417 alvin@wycolaw.com

Alvin Wiederspahn was born in Cheyenne, Wyoming and graduated with high honors from the University of Wyoming and the University of Denver College of Law. He is a member of the Tenth Circuit Judicial Conference, serves as Commissioner of the First Judicial District Court and was elected a member of the Wyoming Legislature for ten years, serving in both the State House of Representatives and State Senate. Mr. Wiederspahn is active in historic preservation and conservation efforts both in his community and nationally. He is a member of the Board of Advisors to the National Trust for Historic Preservation and most recently served as the developer of the acclaimed renovation of The Plains Hotel, a 1911 Cheyenne landmark. He is currently a Director of the Wyoming Stock Growers Agricultural Land Trust.

Dave Wortman, Brendle Group
212 West Mulberry Street, Fort Collins, CO 80521
970-207-0058 dwortman@brendlegroup.com

Dave Wortman has over 17 years of experience as a consultant, project manager, and researcher for local governments, organizations, and private sector clients. His diverse background includes the fields of sustainability, environmental impact assessment, facilitation, and environmental planning. He has collaborated with a diverse set of clients from the international Earth Charter Institute and Australian Research Institute on Education for Sustainability to local governments throughout the U.S. Mr. Wortman also is a widely published writer covering topics related to the environment, sustainability, and green consumer issues. He researched and co-authored the book Engaging People in Sustainability, published in 2004 by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature.

Raymond Young, Young Anderson, Barristers & Solicitors
1616-808 Nelson Street, Vancouver, BC V6Z 2H2
604-689-7400 young@younganderson.ca

Ray Young practices law full-time, both as a Barrister and as a solicitor. He is a partner at Young Anderson, Barristers & Solicitors. He is a member of the Canadian Institute of Planners and has a master’s degree in Community and Regional Planning. He is also a member of the American Planning Association and the International Municipal Lawyers Association. He has taught municipal law and land use law at the Faculty of Law at the University of British Columbia (UBC) for 18 years. He is an adjunct professor teaching planning and land use law at the School of Community and Regional Planning at UBC. Mr. Young’s practice focuses on judicial review litigation, local government law and governance, growth management, planning and land-use, and real estate development.
Marty Zeller, Conservation Partners, Inc.
1410 Grant Street, Ste. C-306, Denver, CO 80203
303-831-9378 conpartner@aol.com

Marty Zeller is the President of Conservation Partners, Inc., a land conservation and rural planning firm specializing in community-based strategies that protect lands with high conservation or natural resource values. In 2003, Mr. Zeller established the Colorado Conservation Connection, a tax credit exchange company that matches sellers and buyers of conservation easement tax credits under Colorado’s innovative tax incentive program. Previously he served as vice president of two statewide land trusts, Colorado Open Lands and the Vermont Land Trust and is frequently asked to speak on conservation and land use issues in the West.

Tiffany Zezula, Land Use Law Center Pace Law School
78 North Broadway, White Plains, NY 10603
914-422-4034 tzezula@law.pace.edu

Tiffany Zezula is the Director of Training for the Land Use Law Center at Pace University School of Law in White Plains, New York. She trains local officials, environmentalists, planners, and developers in land use law and consensus building techniques, provides strategic assistance to local governments and intermunicipal councils, and mediates land use disputes. She is also the Senior Managing Attorney for Pace’s Kheel Center on the Resolution of Environmental Interest Disputes and a frequent speaker on collaborative governance and local decision-making. She received her J.D. cum laude from Pace Law School along with a certificate in Environmental Law. In addition to publishing two scholarly articles in environmental law journals, Ms. Zezula has edited numerous small books in the field of land use law.

Edward Ziegler, University of Denver
Evans and University, Denver, CO 80439
303-871-6275 eziegler@law.du.edu

Edward Ziegler is a founder and past president of the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute. He is a Professor of Law at the University of Denver Sturm College of Law and is a frequent speaker and noted scholar on zoning and urban planning law. His writings, which include the teaching casebook Land Use Regulation, published by Aspen Co., and the five-volume treatise Rathkopf’s The Law of Zoning and Planning, by Thomson-West, are widely cited in land use cases by state appellate courts as well as by the United States Supreme Court. He is a European Union Erasmus Mundus Visiting Scholar in the field of urban planning and sustainable development law.