

Burns Affordable Housing Symposium

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8th / ROOM: LAW FORUM

WIFI: DU Guest Wifi (no password needed)

This symposium, hosted by the Franklin L. Burns School of Real Estate & Construction Management, in partnership with the Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute, will explore Affordable Housing Development and Policies Affecting the Housing Market. Rick Garcia, the Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Local Affairs, and Susan Rice, Director of the US Domestic Policy Council, will provide an overview of policy approaches intended to address housing shortages. Then, a panel of housing experts and financiers will discuss how the housing market is responding to these policy shifts.

 <https://tinyurl.com/5xkj4jux>

 Franklin L. Burns School of Real Estate
& Construction Management
UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Speakers:

Susan Rice, Director, US Domestic Policy Council (pre-recorded comments)

Rick M. Garcia, Executive Director, Colorado Department of Local Affairs

Amy Cara, Managing Partner, East West Development

Pat Hamill, Chairman and CEO, Oakwood Homes

Dominique Jackson, Regional Administrator, US Department of Housing and Urban Development

Scott Horton, Director and Development Officer, Wells Fargo

Cris White, Executive Director and CEO, Colorado Housing and Finance Authority

Moderators:

Vivek Sah, Director, Burns School of Real Estate and Construction Management

Susan Daggett, Director, Rocky Mountain Land Use Institute

3
CE Credits
Available

11:30

CHECK-IN AND LUNCH SERVED

12:00

Keynote Remarks

Pre-recorded message from Susan Rice, Director of U.S. Domestic Policy
Keynote address by Rick Garcia, Executive Director of CO Dept of Local Affairs

1:00

BREAK

1:15

Affordable Housing Panel Discussion

2:30

Closing Remarks

Following the symposium, participants are invited to visit ON2, a new manufactured housing concept by Oakwood Homes featuring factory-built single-family homes that are offered at an affordable price point. On2 is located just a few minutes from the University of Denver.

ON2 Homes: 2520 S. Colorado Blvd., Denver, CO 80222