

PUBLIC GOOD DISTINCTION

SAMPLE PUBLIC GOOD COURSES

Note: This list is not meant to be exhaustive.

Students are responsible for charting their own path and choosing courses that fit into their career interests and their vision for serving the public good as a public interest lawyer. Students will be asked to explain how their specific courses connect to their understanding of the public good and public interest.

Academic advising is strongly encouraged to assist with course selection. Contact alexi.freeman@du.edu to set up an advising appointment with relevant faculty/staff.

Note: Classes offered change each semester. The below is a sample.

Environmental Law	Water Law	Juvenile Law	Labor Law
Social Change Lawyering	Civil Litigation Clinic & Seminar	Employment Discrimination	Constitutional Litigation
Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity	Reproductive Rights	Water Transactions or Water Courts	Death Penalty Jurisprudence / Capital Punishment
Child Advocacy Practicum	Wrongful Convictions	Forced Migration & Human Trafficking	Criminal Defense Clinic & Seminar
Renewable Energy	Critical Race Reading Seminar	Community Economic Development Clinic & Seminar	International Human Rights
Federal Courts	Criminal Procedure	International Environmental Law	Native American and Tribal Law
International Law	Constitutional Law II	Education Law	Election Law
Energy Law	Natural Resources Law	Immigration Law	Asylum Law
Civil Rights Clinic & Seminar	Mediation or ADR	Health Law	Representing the Spanish Speaking Client
Movement Lawyering Lab	Muliculturalism, Race and the Law	Animal Law	First Amendment Law
Global Climate Change	Non-Profit Organizations	Public Sector Employment Law	Sustainable Cities Practicum